37 Marines Killed in Hill 861 Onslaught

3-Prong Try Fails; Planes, Guns Plaster Red Defenders

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. planes and artillery pounded a stubborn North Vietnamese force holding a hill in the northwest corner of South Vietnam today after 37 marines were killed and 84 wounded in an unsuccessful, three-day attempt to take the hill.

4 Planes Lost

In the air war against North Vietnam, the U. S. command announced four American planes were shot down in Wednesday's raids against the Hanoi and Haiphong areas. This raised announced losses this week to 10 U.S. planes in three days of intensified raids on the North Vietnamese heartland. The total losses announced for the air war against North Vietnam are now 520.

The U.S. command said one pilot shot down Wednesday was rescued by helicopter while four others were missing.

Hanoi Radio had claimed 11 American planes were downed Wednesday.

Plan New Assaults

Although spokesmen in Saigon said the Marines had "closed out" their attempt to take Hill 861 three miles northwest of Khe Sanh, Associated Press photographer Richard Merron reported from Khe Sanh that bombs and artillery were raining on the Communists while Marine officers made plans for another assault.

Merron also reported 37 Marines killed and 84 wounded, while headquarters in Saigon said 22 Leathernecks were killed and 43 wounded.

A spokesman in Saigon said the Marines went looking for an estimated North Vietnamese company in Quang Tri Province, bordering the frontier with Laos, and "they found them" Tuesday. The North Vietnamese were well entrenched in bunkers and caves and threw back repeated Marine attempts to throw them off the hill.

There was no estimate of enemy casualties.

In other ground action, a company from the U.S. 4th Infantry Division ran into an enemy platoon late Wednesday and reported killing 15 in two hours of fighting in the central highlands area of Pleiku Province.

Operation Manhattan, a massive search-and-destroy sweep northwest of Saigon, continued with only light, scattered action. But U.S. and Vietnamese troops were reported finding enemy rice caches and some stores of weapons and equipment.

Eleven enemy were reported killed in the operation Wednesday. One U.S. infantryman was killed and 17 wounded, they added.

New Clash Told

In Binh Duong Province north of Saigon, troops of the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry clashed with an enemy force of unknown size this morning. Artillery and air strikes were called in to back up the Americans, but spokesmen said they had no other details except that the action was continuing.

Briefing officers in Saigon late today said they had no information on air attacks during the day against North Vietnam, but it was not believed this indicated any slackening of the intensified pace that was kept up through Wednesday. The air reports usually are delayed until the next day unless there is something of major importance to announce.

The spokesmen said American fliers cut through overcast skies in the North to carry out 84 missions Wednesday. Targets included a bridge four miles northeast of Hanoi over which the rail line to China passes, the main electrical transformer site near Hanoi, the Hon Gai railroad yard 27 miles northeast of Haiphong and an oil depot two miles southwest of Haiphong.

Could Be Reprisal

Officers said assessment of the damage to the Hanoi bridge "was hampered by enemy antiaircraft defenses and surface-to-air missiles."

Possibly in reprisal for the U.S. bombing Tuesday of a rail yard on the edge of Hanoi, the Viet Cong set off explosions early today in a Saigon railroad repair and storage yard which damaged 10 locomotives and a crane.

Air Force B52 bombers made three strikes inside South Vietnam today. Two were in the menaced 1st Corps area in the north, one against enemy positions in Quang Tri Province and the other against similar targets in Quang Ngai Province.

DISCUSS CANDIDACY — Republican leaders at Wednesday night's GOP City Convention discuss the candidacy of C. John Bechtold, (center) endorsed for mayor at Ulster County Court House. Hubert Defends Mission

Republicans Criticize Westmoreland's Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland's mission home — defended by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey — came under Republican attack today as a move to silence Vietnam war critics.

Humphrey told a news conference Wednesday night that no one wants to muzzle "responsible" criticism of Johnson administration policies. He said Westmoreland had given an "excellent assessment" of the Vietnam situation in a speech at an Associated Press meeting in New York Monday.

To Address Congress

When the general speaks to Congress Friday, Humphrey predicted, he will be "well received" and will be "highly informative and helpful to the American people."

But Westmoreland's charge in the New York speech that "unpatriotic acts" of protesters at home are giving comfort to Hanoi brought criticism from Republicans who had been silent when Democratic critics complained bitterly about it in the Senate Tuesday.

While they did not go as far as Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., who said the administration was using "political blackmail" to silence its critics, Sens. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., and Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., protested that the patriotism of those who differ on policy is being questioned.

Hatfield told a Yale audience in New Haven, Conn., Wednesday night that "those who dare to challenge the administration's policies do so at the risk of having their patriotism questioned."

Joining in Effort

He said Westmoreland "is joining in the effort to silence opposition."

Aiken, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he regards the return of the U.S. commander in Vietnam as "part of an effort to quiet disapproving comment on the course of the war." Aiken has opposed escalation of the fighting.

"I detect an air of desperation on the part of the administration," Aiken said. "I think they are searching for someone to blame for their misjudgments. I have the impression that they are planning considerably more escalation."

Morton, often a spokesman for GOP moderates, said in a separate interview he deplores that Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., had to suggest in Tuesday's crackling debate that an effort was being made to equate dissent with treason.

Not Unpatriotic

"Dissent is not unpatriotic," Morton said. "I hold no brief for these draft card and flag burners. We should avoid creating any miscalculation in Hanoi but there can be responsible dissent without burning draft cards and flags."

Morton said he regards the President's action in bringing back Westmoreland as a plov on the part of the administration. That does not mean, he said, any criticism of the general himself but of the circumstances of his return.

Denies Paltz Prexy Helped Bail Out 29

Professor Lynn Madlener, assistant professor of philosophy at the State University College of New Paltz, has charged that acting president Dr. James J. Frost was not one of the contributors to the fund raised to bail out student demonstrators at the college at New Paltz.

Prof. Madlener said that, "The President did not even request the Court to put the students under bail arrangement."

Says Kent Report Lie

Donald Kent, public information officer at the college, told The Freeman Wednesday that Dr. Frost, in a statement released by Dean Leroy Austin, "did not intend that they (the demonstrators) be kept in jail overnight for the lack of ready cash," and that President Frost was among one of the contributors to the $2,900 bail fund.

"That is an absolute lie," claimed Madlener, saying that the move to put up the money was, "a spontaneous gesture on the part of faculty members and students," and that the funds raised were not enough to free all the demonstrators.

Because of the $400 shortage, four demonstrators voted to remain. They were subsequently taken to the Ulster County jail in Kingston.

Taken to jail were: Joel Schubert, a non-student, Robert Barnes, Ira Fish and Paul Ghinger. They remained in the jail until about 8:30 p. m. Tuesday when some friends in Poughkeepsie put up the bail money.

Disgrace to College

Prof. Madlener said "Some of us (faculty members) observed the arrests and although we did not take sides, we saw it as a disgrace to the college."

Madlener charged that, "(Dean Leroy) Austin is factually wrong. He did not produce cash and neither did the president."

He emphasized that the movement to bail out the students was "spontaneous" and that although Dean Austin was at the New Paltz Town Hall, where the arraignments were made, "he was talking to the administration on the phone until the four students went to jail."

Madlener said that although concerned faculty members tried to get the president to permit loans for bail purposes released from the business office of the college, no such authorization was given.

Certain members of the faculty reportedly asked the whole of the faculty to asume responsibility for the bail so that no undue burden would be placed on a few. This procedure, it was said, would also demonstrate a belief in the arrested student's integrity.

Prof. Madlener described the fund-raising drive as one in which faculty members were cashing checks in bars, supermarkets and dry cleaning stores in order to keep the students out of jail. He claimed that although the college administration could have arranged for the bail, they did not do so.

PIO Kent claimed that Dean Austin and President Frost did, in fact, put up money for the bail but that it was impossible that the donation was offered too late and to the wrong person.

Slate Local Law 1 Discussion Tonight

A public hearing will be held 7:30 this evening at the Board of Supervisors room, County Office Building, prior to voting on Local Law No. 1, 1967.

This law would permit the serving by town supervisors, town board members and other elective officials as member of the County Legislature.

Cite Section 411

The Local Law would vary the provisions of Section 411 of the County Law pursuant to Article IX of the State Constitution and Section 10 of the Municipal Home Rule Law, to allow town supervisors and town board members as well as other elective town officials to serve both as town officials and as a member of the County Legislature from the legislative district in which they reside.

Beginning January 1, 1968, the present Board of Supervisors will be abolished and, under the reapportionment plan, county legislators will represent the people from the 12 newly-formed reapportioned legislative districts.

Dual Capacity

Local Law No. 1, 1967, seeks to permit representatives to serve on both the town board as supervisors in their township and also serve in the County Legislature at the same time.

C. John Bechtold, as was expected, was the Republican choice for mayor at the party's city convention Wednesday night in the court house and named as his running mate for councilman-at-large was Louis J. Smith, a Second Ward Republican committeeman.

Both nominations were by acclamation. The convention also chose 11 candidates to represent the four city, councilmanic districts.

Two Others in Field

It was indicated after a recent meeting of the Republican City Committee that Bechtold would be the party's choice for mayor, but several names were suggested for the post of councilman-at-large. Those who got caucus mention Wednesday night, along with Smith were Third Ward Alderman John J. Naccarato and Peter Fisher, of 19 Liberty Street, a local automobile salesman.

Bechtold, long active in the party, has served as a Second Ward committeeman, and as campaign chairman of the Young Republican Club. He is a past president of the Board of Fire Commissioners. His name was presented by First Ward Supervisor James A. Rapp and the nomination was seconded by Coroner William S. Keyser.

Smith was nominated by Second Ward Alderman Robert C. Schantz and the nomination was seconded by several others at the convention.

2nd Ward Committeeman

Smith is a Kingston native and has long been an enrolled Republican. He was recently named a Second Ward committeeman. He has been area manager and sales representative for E. R. Squibb & Sons Co., makers of pharmaceutical products.

In 1964 he was selected for membership in the Hakeem Honor Society, and affiliate of the Squibb Company. Membership in the society is extended to firm employes, who have attained recognition as outstanding salesmen in the organization.

Councilmanic Candidates

Nominated as candidates in the councilmanic districts were:

Third District composed of Wards Three and Four; Incumbent Third Ward Alderman John J. Naccarato; Frank Fabbie and Frank Jablonski.

Rolison Keynoter

Fourth District, composed of Wards Five, Six, Seven and Nine: William Merrill Jr. and Arthur Barnes.

State Senator Jay P. Rolison Jr. (Dutchess-Ulster) who keynoted the convention, emphasized the trend of the Federal Government to encroach upon local governments, and he asked the party to unite on local grounds and attempt to take full control of local government. Otherwise, he said, the influences of state and federal governments will continue to expand.

Lists 9 Banks To Clear State Lottery Details

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state tax commissioner has selected nine regional banks to serve as clearing houses for businesses licensed to sell the $1 state lottery tickets.

Joseph J. Murphy announced Wednesday that the banks would be responsible for distributing tickets to other banks within their jurisdictions and to receive money and tickets, both sold and unsold, from these banks.

The tickets are to be sold in banks, motels and hotels beginning in June.

Hotels and motels licensed to sell tickets generally will deal

Non-Profit, Accredited School Due for Area Riverfront

Mizerek, Group Eye HS Dropouts; Dorm, Workshop to Be Aboard Ships

By CHARLES BERMPOHL
Freeman Staff Writer

A Woodstock businessman who has long had an interest in the problems of youth has conceived of, and is in the process of, promoting one of the most ambitious and unique educational institutions of its kind in the country.

Joseph Mizerek, owner and director of Zerek Construction Company, Inc., and Zerek Marine, along with an impressive array of professional and businessmen from the area, intend to create a non-profit, accredited technical and vocational school with 35 per cent of its courses aimed at the maritime trades which continue to suffer from employe shortages. The name of the institution will be the N. Y. State Academy of Applied Sciences.

Directed towards the high school dropout, a majority of the students will be recruited from state rehabilitation and penal institutions and organizations concerned with the physically handicapped. The student, who may remain at the school for a four-year course of study, will be trained for a specific job within which he will be placed after his education is completed.

Currently in the works is the obtaining of a C4 troop transport ship and a Liberty ship of World War II fame for the school. The C4 will be used as a floating dormitory and will be equipped with bunks, a complete galley, mess halls, baths and showers and a hospital. The Liberty ship will serve as a workshop.

To be constructed will be an on-shore base, located on river frontage in the area, with classrooms, workshops, and dormitories. Plans for the building and negotiations for the property are currently being completed.

The stationary and floating school, will according to Mizerek, "probably deal with 600 to 1,000 students" although it will have a capacity for 2,000. The potential students will be between the ages of 16 and 19.

Mizerek, who will be the director of the school, hopes that the institution will be able to present an associate degree through its more advanced courses. It is expected, however, that the State Board of Education will soon give the new institution the right to award the equivalent of a high school diploma.

Courses will be given in drafting, electronics, commercial plumbing, heating and ventilating, carpentry, machine shop and tool making. These will be offered in addition to the marine courses in electronics, diesel repair, carpentry and boat repairs.

The loaning of tools and equipment will apparently come through the federal government and its Health, Education, and Welfare Department, but the funds to run the school will have to be obtained through foundations and private grants. These donations will have to cover the salaries of instructors, who will be drawn from the trade and maritime unions, counselors and house fathers.

It will cost $5,000 a year in tuition to put a boy through the school. Welfare may be able to cover some individual student costs but additional funds will have to be acquired, it is reported. As of now there are no funds available for the training of school dropouts in the state. However, Mizerek points out, "it costs between $4,800 to $7,000 a year to keep a boy in reform school where he usually gets no useful training at all."

Going directly to the top in his appeal for funds and equipment, the organization sent letters to both President Johnson and Gov. Rockefeller. The White House referred the letter to the Health, Education and Welfare Department which, in turn, contacted Director Mizerek regarding the loaning of equipment.

Along with Mizerek as director of the school, Dr. Wiliam W. Jaxheimer (Olivebridge) will be the medical director, John Larkin, Kingston has assumed the post of legal director, and Ken Osterhoudt, Woodstock will be the institution's financial director.

The Rondout National Bank is presently handling all of the financial details for the school, according to Mizerek.

Included in the administration staff is Thomas Atkins, Joseph Piccirello, Emil Picart, all of Woodstock; Barry Traficante, Saugerties and Edward Arace, Kingston.

Under the direction of Dr. Jaxheimer, the school will sponsor counseling of students by psychologists who will work directly with the boys. "After all," says Mizerek, "every one of them has problems."

One of the project's stated aims is to achieve not only training but rehabilitation of the high school dropouts and juvenile delinquents.

"When he (the student) has completed training," says Mizerek, "he will be mentally, physically and morally acceptable to the society."

In addition to student counseling, there will be an experimental program of counseling for the parents of the boys so that, according to the director, "other children of the family will have the opportunity of benefiting from (the counseling.)"

Mizerek, an ex-state trooper from Hawthorne who moved into the area in 1954 and into Woodstock in 1957, cites what he calls a "typical case" regarding a school dropout.

"We take an average student who is holding all of his grades but begins to fall behind in English or History. Soon he begins failing in his other classes. (Eventually) he goes into despair and finally quits school.

"So now we have a boy, 16 or 17 years old, who can't find a job. He begins to hang around with other dropouts. He needs money. He is open to suggestion."

Relying on the sad statistics, Mizerek believes that many of these dropouts begin to steal and, "from there on in he is a juvenile delinquent."

"If you read one story, you've read them all. It all starts with losing interest in one subject."

Nationally, of the 6.5 million young persons between the ages of 14 to 19 in the labor market in 1964, an average of close to one million (14.7 per cent) were unemployed.

In 1962, 20 million American adults over 25 years of age had less than an eighth grade education and 7.8 million were termed "functional illiterates" having

Navy Has Openings Listed in 51 Ratings

Chief Emil J. Slivka, USN, of the United States Navy Recruiting Station in Kingston, has announced that a recent change in recruiting directives has been issued advising that enlistments or reenlistments may be effected in 51 of the Navy's ratings as listed in the Navy's "open rate" program.

Chief Slivka states that an "open rate" is one which the Navy finds critically undermanned, or in need of additional personnel to maintain its forces.

The program provides for an enlistment or reenlistment in regular Navy, in a pay grade above that for which personnel would normally be eligible, of certain persons separated from the Navy or Naval Reserves in an "open rate," who have gained experience in another service in a field closely allied to an "open rate," or who have since their separation qualified by virtue of civilian experience.

Persons interested in gaining further information are advised to contact the Navy Recruiting Station, in Room 2 of the Kingston Post Office Building, between 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Friday, or to contact the office for personal interviews.

ARC Suggests Right Gifts for GIs in Vietnam

Mrs. Donald Snell, volunteer hairman for the Service to Military Families of the Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, recently expressed concern that persons sending packages to servicemen stationed in Vietnam may not be aware that certain types of articles should not be sent to that tropical climate. "It is disappointing to the servicemen to receive articles that cannot be used and it is a waste of money to have things sent that are not practical," Mrs. Snell said. "While sending packages to the servicemen is encouraged by the Red Cross and is definitely a morale building practice, it is much more worth-while if consideration is given to the type of gift that will be most enjoyed."

Experience has shown that the men are most anxious to get the following items and these are mentioned as suggestions for packages being sent to Vietnam: ballpoint pens, paperback books, small packages of writing paper with self-seal envelopes (the humid weather makes the glue stick on the other kind and renders them useless), cigarette cases (not cigarettes since they can be purchased less expensively at the PX's), small pocket games (decks of playing cards, checkers, chess, etc.) small tins of nuts and candies vacuum packed (not chocolate or candies packed in cellophane), pre-sweetened soft drink powder such as Kool-Aid).

No liquids, glass containers, combustibles, food, or any item which would melt or deteriorate in heat should be included. No medicants of any kind, including foot powder, are appropriate for inclusion. Since servicemen's mail is now franked and does not require postage, stamps are not necessary.

Some men have asked for insect repellant and "old-fashioned fly paper; at least one, for small cans of fruit. Most appreciate small plastic bags in which they can wrap their possessions, small plastic snapshot holders, and small address books. If there are questions about certain articles, the Ulster County Chapter of the Red cross will be glad to advise you, Mrs. Snell added.

Mrs. Snell went on to point out that the fine response of community groups to the Red Cross Shop Early Program last year helped make the 1966 holiday season a happier one for our servicemen in Vietnam.

The program was such an outstanding success that it will be repeated again this year, with slight changes based upon last year's experience and suggestions from Red Cross staff in Vietnam.

The goal is to have one filled gift bag for each able-bodied U. S. service member in Vietnam. Ulster County Chapter has been given a quota of 500 of these bags. The chapter is appealing to community organizations, firms, agencies, church groups and individuals to provide gifts, materials or funds for this program.

Many heartwarming letters of appreciation were received by the Ulster County chapter from servicemen in Vietnam last year and were convincing evidence that this is a most worthwhile program. T/Sgt. George H. Every, stationed with the 377th Civil Engr. Squadron, wrote: "Letting everyone know that the boys in our unit thank you from the bottom of our hearts. The gifts we received really enlightened the boys to know that you all care that much for us.

"I have a personal thank you to you all as the gift I received came from my home town. I was born and raised in Kingston. My folks (Mr. and Mrs. George Every) still live on Broadway in Kingston."

Mrs. Snell pointed out that any person or group that is interested in helping with this project is welcome and contact should be made with the Ulster County Chapter at 308 Clinton Avenue.

"Not only will we welcome any contributions of contents for these bags," said Mrs. Snell, "but workers will be needed to sew the bags, fill them after they are made, and pack them so that they can be on their way to Vietnam by Oct. 1. The staff at the chapter will be glad to hear from any volunteers and will be able to schedule the work to be done. Call them at your convenience."

Airman Killed As Guard Rail Pierces Auto

JORDAN, N.Y. (AP)—An Air Force enlisted man was killed and another teen-ager was injured seriously today when their automobile was pierced by a guard rail in a traffic accident on a bridge here.

Robert J. Loveless, 19, of Meridian, Cayuga County, was killed when the car slammed into the rail along Route 31 on the North Main Street overpass.

A passenger, Spencer R. Cole, 18, of Cato, also Cayuga County, was reported in serious condition at Auburn Memorial Hospital.

State Police said a 12 - foot - long length of rail was imbedded in the automobile.

Drowned in Pool

BOLIVAR, N.Y. (AP)—Merle Blakeslee, 69, a caretaker at Moore Memorial Park in this community southwest of Wellsville, drowned in the park's swimming pool Wednesday.

State Police said Blakeslee had been picking up debris when he apparently tumbled into the pool.

His address was 65 Plum St.

Ask U.N. Action

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Fifty of the 122 United Nations members called Wednesday for the U.N. Security Council to use military force if necessary to end South Africa's control of South-West Africa.

The U.N. General Assembly voted last October to terminate South Africa's League of Nations mandate over the former German colony but left it to the current special session to consider ways of bringing this about.

The resolution was introduced by 49 African and Asian nations plus Yugoslavia. It needs a two-thirds vote for approval. Any Security Council action would have to get past the big-power veto.

Wants to Return

CAIRO (AP) — Ex-King Saud has broadcast an appeal to Saudi Arabians from exile in Cairo to throw out his half-brother King Faisal and open the way for him to "reclaim my throne."

"I never abdicated, but I voluntarily left Saudi Arabia to avert bloodshed," said the 65-year-old former monarch who was forced off the throne in April 1964 because of his extravagance and opposition to reform.

Speaking over Egypt's Voice of the Arabs radio, Saud accused Faisal of allying himself with "imperialism against his Arab brother" and said "I feel it imperative I come to the rescue of my people."

Saud first made his exile home in Athens and moved to Cairo last December.

Advises Mile a Day

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Keeping in trim the year 'round shouldn't cost more than a pair of shoe soles, says Dr. Walter Bortz, a physical fitness expert.

"Just walk a mile every day," said the director of two major research programs on obesity and metabolic disorders at Lankenau Hospital during an interview.

Form Woodstock, W. Hurley Group On Chest Drive

An advisory committee to oversee the mechanics of the forthcoming Ulster County Community Chest fund drive has recently been organized by citizens of Woodstock and West Hurley. The Community Chest has officially accepted Woodstock and West Hurley and, will be included in the 1968 solicitation fund campaign in September and October.

Mrs. Marlon Hutchinson active in organizing the advisory committee said "Combining campaigns is a welcome idea to meet people—especially to those who continually help with the door-to-door collections. Six Community Chest organizations have collected separately in this community: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Cerebral Palsy, Retarded Children's Association and the Red Cross. Other member groups include YWCA, YMCA, Kingston Boy's Club, Jewish Community Center, Gateway Industries, Mental Health and USO.

A nucleus for the advisory committee has formed but it cannot proceed alone. The committee should include some persons who have an interest in the various causes and some who can represent different types of thoughts in the community, such as artists, businessmen, churchmen, educators and service groups.

So far the following groups are represented Salvation Army by Elbert Varney and Gordon Anderson; Boy Scouts, Vincent Caliendo; Girl Scouts, Mrs. Marlon Hutchinson; Woodstock Jaycees, Ron Heilmann and Paul DeLisio; Rotary, James R. Hyers and Woodstock Chamber of Commerce, Hal Martin. Also working with the group are A. G. Cox and Mrs. Charles Newcomb.

On Tuesday, May 2, at 8 p. m. in the cafeteria of the West Hurley Elementary School, the advisory committee will elect officers and lay plans. Any concerned resident of Woodstock or West Hurley who would like to work on or for this committee is urged to attend the meeting. Officials of the Community Chest will help, but the organizational work must be done by West Hurley-Woodstock citizens. Mrs. Marlon Hutchinson may be contacted for details.

EMPLOYABLES ON WELFARE

A recurring worry of officials and taxpayers is how many people on relief are chiselers, or lazy or for other reasons freeloaders? Probably no exact answers can be given. But President Johnson apparently sought an answer, not so much to find out whether there should be handouts to the poor, but how to break the poverty cycle.

A study conducted under the direction of William Gorham, assistant Secretary for Program Planning of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, found that 7.3 million are on relief. Of these, less than 1 per cent are employable, given the training and skills to hold a job.

As reported by Joseph A. Califano Jr. an aide to President Johnson, the 7.3 million on relief are made up as follows:

Two and one tenth million, mostly women, are 65 or over, with a median age of 72; 7,000 are either blind or so severely handicapped that their work potential, if any, is extremely limited; 3.5 million are children whose parents cannot support them.

The one million others are the parents of those children—about 900,000 mothers and 150,000 fathers and two-thirds of these fathers are incapacitated.

That leaves only 50,000 capable of being given job skills and training that will make them self-sufficient. These are the possible employables on the relief rolls.

Obviously, there is also a large pool of possible employables among the 900,000 mothers of dependent children. With special child-care centers and training programs, a good many of these mothers would become employable. The difference between their numbers and fathers of dependent children point up the problem.

These figures reduce the problem to its essentials. Taxpayers do not need to feel so badly cheated as they feared. At the same time, the relief rolls can and should be reduced considerably.

Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark has taken on the job of evaluating disciplinary procedure of the legal profession for the American Bar Association. He will begin this job after he retires from the court. His own retirement, to avoid a possible conflict of interest with the appointment of his son, Ramsey Clark, to be Attorney General, sets an example for the whole profession.

Naturally, we would like to see traffic fatality rates decreasing. But counting more cars and drivers on the road, the National Safety Council's report of a rise of 10 deaths in the first two months of this year is encouraging. At least, it indicates the rise is almost halted, at five more deaths a month.

FLAG-BURNING PENALTY

All fifty states have laws against desecration of the American flag, but there is no Federal law against it. Public indignation at the burning of the flag during the recent anti-Vietnam war demonstrations in New York and San Francisco has so aroused Congress that a score or more bills were introduced to make desecration of the flag a Federal offense.

So stirred was Congress that members of the House Rules committee threatened to take the issue directly to the floor when Rep. Emanuel Celler, chairman of the Judiciary committee, was reluctant to start hearings. Though he was incensed at the flag-burnings, Celler felt at first that the states could stop it if they did their duty under the state laws.

The anti-war flag desecrators showed their loyalty was not to this country when they publicly burned the flag. They should have known the depth of feeling this would arouse. As members of Congress said, "If the flag is worth dying for, it is worth protecting," and they are of a mind to protest it with stiff penalties, imprisonment and heavy fines for those who desecrate it.

Perhaps these Vietniks will then realize that they are insulting the very nation that makes their demonstrations possible, when they burn the flag that is the symbol, not only of patriotism, but also of justice.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THE EMBATTLED REPUBLICAN WOMEN

Richard Nixon has said that when women go in for politicking, they can be really deadly. It may not have been the most tactful thing in the world for Dick Nixon to bring up. But with the battle lines forming for the biennial convention of the National Federation of Republican Women, which will be held in Washington, D. C., on May 5 and 6, it now looks as though Nixon had understated the case. The women seem to be getting ready for the floor fight of the ages, which is just the thing the Republican National Committee Chairman, Ray Bliss, had hoped to avoid.

There are, as of the moment of writing, two contestants for the office of president of the Federation. One is Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, California, the choice of the women's nominating committee. The other is Mrs. Phyllis Schlafly, the incumbent first vice president of the Federation, who will be nominated from the floor.

Fair enough, one might say; in a democratic organization, there is no reason there shouldn't be a contest for president. But that isn't the way the Republican women feel about it. The O'Donnell partisans think it bad faith to undercut the nominating committee. The group known as Republican Women for Phylliss Schlafly," on the other hand, think it was a dirty trick for the nominating committee to pass over the claims of the first vice president to automatic promotion.

This columnist got involved in the scrap by remarking in a piece about Republican unity that it was a Republican Womens Federation "tradition" to elevate the first vice president to the presidency. I should have qualified this by saying it was the "new" tradition, for the Republican Women have been moving their first vice president up only since the middle of the Nineteen Fifties. A further qualification is that the first vice president must want the job of president and be in a position to take off from family obligations to do it.

Mrs. Schlafly definitely wants the job, and says that "custom and courtesy" entitle her to it. But she is a "conservative," and the "moderates" want it to go to Mrs. O'Donnell.

As a mere male I should say that the choice is the women's own business. But the politicking in the fight to control the women's organization has involved the males. There is the use that has been made of a Barry Goldwater letter for example. In pressing the case for Mrs. O'Donnell, the "moderates" have been sending out paragraphs excerpted from a Goldwater note to Mrs. Dorothy Elston, the outgoing Federation president, commending Gladys O'Donnell as a "long time worker in the conservative cause." Well, Goldwater did say that. But Mrs. Schlafly's friends point out that this is only half of the story. In the uncropped version of his letter to Mrs Elston, Goldwater went on to say that "Phyllis Schlafly, too, is a friend of long standing . . . Anyone familiar with politics at all must be familiar with the fantastic work done by this fine lady." And Barry wound up his letter by saying that he looked forward to "working with and supporting whomever the members of the Federation in their wisdom shall choose as their President."

Republican Chairman Bliss has been accused of manipulating the women's Federation to produce a victory for Mrs. O'Donnell. As far as I can determine, Ray Bliss's sin consists of supporting those who voted to change the convention locale from California, where it was originally scheduled, to Washington, D. C. The pro-Schlafly women think this is a break for "New York liberals," who can easily get down to Washington on the shuttle plane. This may be true, but the energy exhibited by Mrs. Maureen Reagan Sills, who happens to be the daughter of California's Governor Reagan, in touring the country for Mrs. Schlafly, would seem to indicate that the conservatives will get out their vote.

The feathers have been flying in this fight for control of the womens organization. A good fight is perfectly legitimate, and it won't matter provided everybody closes ranks in 1968 after the national Presidential ticket has been chosen. The only thing is that the Republicans will need live, not dead, women by November, 1968. So, if the ladies insist on maiming each other, let there be no murders, please.

Washington News

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Aside from his moral appeals to end U. S. participation in the Vietnam war, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. is using an economic argument to make his point. It deserves to be examined.

The argument is that U. S. outlays for the war represent a major interference with the domestic wars against poverty and racial discrimination.

The presumption is that if these expenditures could be halted through the advent of peace, then a massive money assault could be made upon the problems of the poor—which includes a high proportion of U. S. Negroes.

King's premise is very shaky.

Evidence from history is skimpy, but what there is ought not to hearten him. Lawmakers who grow accustomed to spending huge sums in wartime show no disposition to turn similar amounts to constructive domestic purpose when war ends. They simply scale back.

In World War II, federal spending reached a peak of $98.3 billion in fiscal 1945. Two years later, with defense outlays cut to the lowest level in the whole 1942-67 period, the budget of $33 billion offered no great sums for stirring attacks on accumulated social and economic problems.

The fact is, no such dramatic undertakings have ever been launched.

Last September, the venerable Negro leader, A. Philip Randolph, unveiled his long-awaited "freedom budget," calling for huge social reconstruction in American society—at enormous cost.

To strike down poverty and make America's cities livable and workable for the poor as well as others, Randolph proposed to clean up and rebuild the cities, modernize transportation systems, lay out $27 billion or more for new educational facilities in six years and roughly $50 billion for housing in 10 years.

He put no over-all money tag on his freedom budget, but his specific proposals indicated it would far outstrip the $100 billion he first mentioned in late 1965.

In December, this reporter sat with a sizable group of responsible Negro leaders in Philadelphia, discussing the Negro outlook. Not one of these thought there was even the faintest prospect that the U. S. government or anybody else would spend the kind of sums Randolph was calling for.

And yet not one of them gave U. S. expenditures in Vietnam as the reason. The war was never mentioned in this context. These people appeared to believe simply that most Americans, unmoved by cries of "freedom now!", would just refuse to shoulder such burdens.

Obviously, some Great Society programs have suffered fund cuts because of Vietnam war pressures. But the kind of money cut from these is not of the scale Randolph and King have in mind.

If the Negro leaders in Philadelphia have it right, then King today may be trapped on the most infertile ground he has ever tried to work. He may soon be a man virtually without an effective constituency.

Though estimates vary, it is agreed only a modest scattering of Negroes turned out for the big antiwar shows in New York and San Francisco April 15.

As the widely billed star of the New York show (though he spoke and quickly departed), King got himself bracketed—at least in the camera's gaze—with the lunatic left, black nationalists and black power extremists and assorted other irresponsibles.

In a divided Negro movement that badly needs the coalition of its responsible elements, King has moved toward unproductive isolation. His turn to the peace front has gained him no Negro following. And the tapestry of distortion he wove in his April 4 Vietnam speech cost him heavily among admirers and supporters of long standing.

Journey Through the Mine Fields

Jim Bishop: Reporter

There are more than a billion clocks in the world and no one has ever been able to define time. Fifteen centuries ago, Aurelius Augustinue said: "What then is time? If someone asks me, I know. If I wish to explain it to someone who asks, I know not."

The new Random House Dictionary requires 1,530 words to explain the word in 67 separate attempts. One of them intones, "A system or method of measuring or reckoning the passage of time." But what is time?

It rules our lives. It's the thing on which we ride from the cradle to the grave. The component parts of time are past present and future. Of the three, the past is irretrievably gone, the present will not last the length of a breath, and the future never arrives. Samul A. Goudsmith and Robert Claiborne, in a book called "Time," call the clock the deputy of the sun and the stars, but even that does not define the word.

The human pulse is a good timekeeper, unless illness or excitement alters its beat. Time is something no one ever touched, and yet everyone can save it or waste it. It can be seen in the rise of the sun, the fall of the moon, a face, a house, a vehicle, a baby's tooth.

The first ticking clocks had one hand, denoting the hour. Man arbitrarily decided that 24 turns of the clock would be enough to denote the lapse of one day. Then he decided to cut the interval finer, so he invented the minute hand. This chopped his hour into 60 parts, and had no relation to the original 24.

Nor was this sufficient. The second hand sliced the minute into 60 equal parts. When he learned how precious each tick was, man became enslaved by his invention. Scientists began to cut the seconds into thousandths, then millionths. How long will it take a lasar beam to traverse a quartz tube 10 feet long? It can be measured in milliseconds.

To the physicist, time is one part of a three-legged crutch. The other two are mass and distance. To the philosopher, time is sorrow in intervals. To the youth, it is something that goes on forever. To the poet, it's a morning glory dead at noon. To the old man, it is something that slipped through his fingers. To the woman in labor, it is something that has momentarily stopped.

For hundreds of centuries, time defeated man because he could not remember all of his experiences. He triumphed over the past, which is time, when he learned to write. Writing became a memory symbol of the past. As a tool, it was magical, but he had to think of time in terms of epochs. Experience had to be related to seasons, to days, to tides, to moons new or full or waning.

Originally, he had appreciated the seasons. He knew when to plant, when to wait, when to reap. This gave him a crude calendar. But when he began to keep subdividing time to the irreducible, he began to understand time without ever learning how to define it.

Only an infant lives in the present. It knows no past, divines no future. A few years later, he has only a rudimentary conception of time: "When it is dark, I go to bed. When it is morning, I have my cereal." Diderot, the philosopher, thought of time in a most sophisticated manner: "Work shortens our days and lengthens our lives."

The human brain contains a clock that will put a man to sleep at a proper moment and wake him up too. However, under stress, he smothers the clock. As a witness, in court, he is asked to estimate one minute of time. In the silence, he fidgets, studies the faces hostile and friendlly and says "Now" 40 to 45 seconds later. A lady being kissed by her beloved could be as far off true time in the opposite direction.

A family can test its appreciation of time by using one-foot lengths of paper for each member, regardless of age. The left edge represents birth, the right edge is now. Make a mark where a year ago should be, where five years ago stands, where elementary school ended, and the first day of school. Divide the 16ths of an inch on a ruler into the number of years each participant has lived and see what the time tolerance is.

Every living thing is a slave to time. The cells and organs of a body keep better time than the person. They do the right thing in the right amount at the right time, or they perish. No one has to tell a thorny bush that it requires root nourishment before it can oud a rose. It knows.

What, precisely, is time? I wish I knew . . .

Letters to the Editor

Letters to The Editor must bear the name of the writer and communications must be limited to 300 words free of libel and personal attacks upon individuals as such. Only original communications addressed to The Freeman will be printed. We reserve the right to edit and shorten any letter.

Rosendale, N. Y.

Editor, The Freeman:

I was surprised to read in the Freeman on Tuesday that I had been appointed to the village recreation committee by the Rosendale Village Board on Monday night. I was surprised because I had already made it known to the members of the board that I could not accept an appointment to such a committee due to the time demanded of me by other commitments.

I said, however, that I would be glad to help in any capacity, other than political appointment, that would not conflict with these other commitments. I have for the past three years been president of the Rondout Valley Little League and chairman of Pack 17 Cub Scouts and for the past two years, a member of the Town of Rosendale Recreation Committee. These are all fine organizations that have helped provide recreation for the children of our community for many years.

Politics being what they are in the Village of Rosendale, I would not want to become involved by accepting a political appointment in the village. The organizations I head up in the community are established national organizations with impeccable reputations and I would not want to find myself in a position, a month before the next village elections, of defending myself against taking kickbacks on ping pong balls or some such ridiculous charge.

Since I have lived in Rosendale, I have worked hard to provide recreation for the youth of our community. I have done so as a private citizen and an unenrolled voter and I would prefer to keep it that way. Mr. Bernard Schaeffer is a fine gentleman and well qualified for the appointment. I count him as a personal friend and will gladly assist him in any way I can but for the above mentioned reasons I must decline this appointment.

DICK PRIEST

Do You Remember

By Sophie Miller

Everyone likes to look back at pleasant memories, perhaps seasons or aromas had something to do with it. Somehow I associate a certain kind of carmel corn confection and red birch beer, both a nickle each with Kingston Point Park.

Going even further, my father bought them for me at the Dayline Pier, and then we went up on the second floor veranda, to watch the Dayline come in, and passengers coming off and on. There were many children around, yet they were so quiet, and parents were kind but soft spoken. It seems, parents were always trying to prove to other parents, that their children were brought up properly. Instructions were whispered to the children, even if it was only "Stop it, this minute." What made the young ones mind, I do not know but they did. The flowers in the park were never plucked, there was no vandalism, and a broken window was a rarity anywhere in the city.

Children, to break into businesses to steal and destroy vending machines, or homes would have made headlines. The strange thing is that Kingston's population has not grown. The change in education, and large school buildings and buses and the new type of educators perhaps has confused the youngsters.

When the nice spring days came, and Kingston, as far back as I can remember, had bluestone sidewalks, with stores, and living quarters above them from the Strand to Wall Street, so it was nice walking and of course safe. Everyone walked in the evening who desired to do so. They went to the movies or to have some ice cream, or other refreshments, or perhaps up to the West Shore Depot and back. One met neighbors and friends. The children walked in front and the parents followed. It was an orderly life. Do-gooders were not in style yet. Every family was a unit, and a neighborhood was a close knit friendly group.

One of the first signs of spring and coming summer was the first summer trolley car. It is difficult to imagine for this generation, the coming of the newly painted and polished first summer open trolley car. The store-keepers waved to the motorman and the conductor who collected the fare. We all hoped it would be warm enough in the evening, so the summer trolley was kept out, so we could get the nickle ride uptown and back. The conductor was usually a friendly person and the news of the day was discussed by the men so all could hear.

Spring and summer evenings the folks who had porches sat in their porch chairs or rockers, but often they went shopping on Broadway, and Rondout, and the merchants sat outside and would go in to wait on the customers. You could visit at every store and hear the news. There was a communication between people which is being lost and our idenity, as one deacon of a church pointed out to me, by folks moving away from neighborhoods. They tell me, there are streets of what is considered, nice houses, where one is fortunate if one receives a "Good morning." The communication is not there.

One vegetates and goes to the artificial friendship of TV personalities. I know the warm friendship of old neighbors whom I meet by chance at shopping centers. It is such a pleasure to talk to them, but it is not like the leisure in which we visited on warm evenings in our neighhoods. Is Kingston going to become an undersized city of lonesome people like New York City, which is made up of small towners trying to act like city people. We should never forget that Kingston consolidated in 1872 and was made up of the Village of Rondout, and the Village of Kingston.

See Congress Hand Forced On Support of Vietnam War

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson may have to ask a joint session of the House and Senate to pass a resolution which will tell the world that American policy in Vietnam has the support of the representatives of the American people — namely, the Congress of the United States. This step is being forced upon the administration as a result of the bitter criticism coming from its own leaders in the Senate. Thus, for example, Senator J. W. Fulbright, Democrat of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has publicly accused General Westmoreland of trying to squelch independent discussion of the Vietnam war because in the military commander's speech in New York he had said anti-war protests are encouraging the enemy and costing the lives of our fighting men.

Senator George McGovern, Democrat of South Dakota, has charged the Johnson administration with a "policy of madness" in escalating the Vietnam war. He declared:

"In trying to imply that it is American dissent which is causing the Vietnamese to continue the war, the administration is only confessing the weakness of its own case by trying to silence its critics and confuse the American people."

Senator Robert F. Kennedy, Democrat of New York, expressed his approval of Senator McGovern's speech, as did Senator Ernest Gruening, Democrat of Alaska. Senator Fulbright questioned whether the administration has "any intention" of entering into negotiations of "any sort" with Hanoi, and he added:

"This criticism of dissent will lead to a charge of disloyalty . . . and from that to treason."

While Senator Spessard Holland, Democrat of Florida, defended General Westmoreland, as did Senator Frank Lausche, Democrat of Ohio, the impression created abroad by the debate undoubtedly will be that a sizeable segment of the United States Senate disapproves of the Vietnam War and the strategy being followed there by the United States and its allies.

Under such circumstances, how can the world learn the truth about American opinion? The Washington Post editorially suggests what it calls an effective remedy—namely, that the President go to Congress not for a declaration of war but for a resolution of support for the war in Vietnam as it is. The Post predicts that Congress would vote overwhelming support of the kind of struggle which General Westmoreland defined in his speech. The editorial adds::

"This might not put an end to dissent, but it would end dissent that rests upon the feeling that Congress has not had a chance to play its full constitutional role in confronting the problems of the war that now is being fought in South Vietnam. It would make it possible to distinguish between those who are against the war and those who are playing politics against the administration. It would make it easier to identify those who are mere hand-wringers and those with a constructive alternative to existing policy. The Congress of the United States, facing up resolutely and boldly to the challenge of a conflict to which, it is frankly told, there is no end in sight, might send such a message to Hanoi as to hasten the day when there is an end in sight."

Congress did adopt a resolution in August 1964 stating that it "approves and supports the determination of the President, as commander-in-chief, to take all necessary measures to repeal any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression." This has been widely accepted as equivalent to a broad resolution of authorization for the administration's conduct of the war in Vietnam.

If Mr. Johnson asked for a new resolution and failed to get it, it would be a humiliating spectacle before the world. If, on the other hand, the resolution passed overwhelmingly, it would help convince the enemy—especially the Communist regimes in Peiping and Moscow — that the United States is not going to withdraw or surrender, but will continue to fight until the North Vietnamese agree to some kind of cease-fire or armistice.

Find Vietnam Policy Critics Are Sensitive

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is said to be very sensitive to criticism about his handling of the war in Vietnam. But his critics seem sensitive, too, to criticism about criticism.

There was a good example of it this week after Gen. William C. Westmoreland made a 51-paragraph speech on the war — enough to fill half of a newspaper page — and then answered questions that took up the rest of the page.

Use One Paragraph

But in all he said the commander of the U.S. forces in Vietnam used only one paragraph, plus one sentence in another paragraph, to criticize American critics of the war.

It was this bit about the critics that the critics seized upon, skipping over the rest of the speech which Westmoreland made to the annual meeting of The Associated Press in New York.

He was accused of being a kind of messenger boy for Johnson — a propaganda agent — ordered by Johnson to say what he said.

Yet, it was a very excellent speech, full of details and background and explanations for the U.S. part in the war, the very kind of speech some people think Johnson should have made long ago to the American people, but hasn't.

Briefly, Westmoreland said this about the criticism at home: While the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese are discouraged by military defeats, they are encouraged to keep on fighting by the criticism.

'Crumbling Morale'

They interpret the criticism, he said, as "crumbling morale" in this country and popular opposition to the war. He added: The longer the enemy keeps fighting, the higher the cost in American lives.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., perhaps Johnson's most persistent critic on the war, protested that Westmoreland's criticism of the critics was part of a Johnson administration attempt to "shut up" dissenters and link dissent with treason.

Fulbright last year said he looked upon the Vietnam conflict as a civil war and "I think we are. . .intervening in a civil war."

But Westmoreland, with a ringside seat in Vietnam as commander there for three years, said in his speech that the war is anything but civil, that it is a boldfaced attempt by the Communist North to take over the non-Communist South.

Went Into Detail

To explain why, he went into a lot of detail which may satisfy those Americans who were puzzled about who did what to whom. But it undoubtedly won't move the critics an inch, including Fulbright.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., another war critic, started off the attack in the Senate on Westmoreland's speech with a speech of his own that called for an end to the bombing although the enemy never moved any closer to the peace table when Johnson ordered a bombing pause a number of times.

McGovern said he didn't blame Westmoreland for what he said because "he is obviously doing both in Vietnam and in New York exactly what he was told to do by his commander-in-chief, the President."

Westmoreland failed if, as Fulbright claimed, he was just a Johnson mouthpiece trying to silence the dissenters. As can be seen from this, instead of feeling chastened, the speech started the critics all over again.

Johnson and Westmoreland must have figured it would. In this war few seem to change their minds. Therefore, it would seem, the best Westmoreland could hope for was to make the critics self-conscious.

Form New Rochester Negro Force

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)— Two Negro youth groups say they will try to replace FIGHT, a Negro organization locked in a struggle with the Eastman-Kodak Co., as the moving force for Negroes in the city.

"We're not doing this because we dislike FIGHT," a spokesman for one of the groups said Wednesday. "We are doing it because FIGHT hasn't done anything for our people but degrade them."

Total 219

The two groups are a youth club, called the Satan's Disciples, and the United Council of Negro Youth Clubs. Membership in both organizations totals 219.

A spokesman for the club said members were frustrated by what they called a futile and unwanted struggle with Kodak.

Minister Franklin D. R. Florence, president of FIGHT, has not produced jobs, housing or equality for inner-city residents, he added.

FIGHT, standing for Freedom, Integration, God, Honor, Today, has been arguing with Kodak over hiring practices. FIGHT contends that Kodak reneged on an agreement to hire and train 600 unskilled Negroes. Kodak officials claim the agreement was unauthorized and would have been discriminatory not against Negroes, but against non-Negroes.

Launched Protest

Protesting Kodak's stand, FIGHT launched a demonstration Tuesday in Flemington, N.J., during the firm's stockholders' meeting. Florence announced that a mass demonstration would be held on July 24, the anniversary of the racial riots in Rochester in 1964.

Both the Flemington and the proposed July demonstrations "do little to secure the needs of Negroes," spokesmen for the youth groups said.

Lemuel Satan DeBose, the Disciples' advisor, urged Negroes to follow the youths if they want equality, jobs, freedom, and education.

The United Council was formed earlier this month to do what "grown-ups wouldn't do — take an interest in housing, politics, the neighborhood and their own people," a spokesman said.

"We don't want things on a silver platter," DeBose said. "We're here to lead or follow anyone who can show us they are for justice and equality for the black man."

Pull Vehicle, Body From Canal

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)— A station wagon, containing the body of a father of nine, was recovered Wednesday night from the Black Rock Canal bordering La Salle Park.

A certificate of death for Joseph E. Schrecengost, 45, of Buffalo was withheld pending an investigation, Arthur G. Elsaesser, an Erie County medical examiner, said.

Police and Coast Guard crews recovered the body about two hours after the vehicle was seen rolling down a boat launching ramp into the water.

Grappling teams found the car and the body in 15 feet of water about 40 feet from the ramp.

Schrecengost lived at 37 15th St.

Cases Heard In County Court

Donald Richard Rydell, 21, of Highland, charged with third degree burglary, unlawful entry and second degree grand larceny, was sentenced to a five year term at Elmira Reformatory by County Judge Raymond J. Mino. Rydell entered a plea of guilty to attempted third degree burglary. Francis Martocci and Richard Harp appeared for Rydell, who was also under indictment for procuring alcoholic beverage for a child under the age of 18.

William James Williams, 25, of 237 Hasbrouck Avenue, who had been found guilty of third degree robbery, second degree assault and petit larceny, was sentenced to Clinton State Prison at Dannemora on the two felony charges and was given a jail sentence on the petit larceny misdemeanor charge when he appeared before Judge Mino on Wednesday for sentence. Williams, also known as "melon head," was found guilty after trial. Marshall Lipton appeared for defendant and Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt appeared for the prosecution. Williams was charged with having robbed and assaulted William Fox of Route 3, Kingston, last Oct. 8 near Broadway and East Pierpont Street. Carl Whipple, formerly of New Salem, was also charged by the grand jury with the same violations but was found innocent after trial by the jury. Williams was given 5 to 10 years on the robbery charge, 2½ to 10 years on the assault charge and a year in the county jail on the petit larceny charge. Sentences run concurrently.

An indictment charging Bruce Elnor Anderson with illegal possession of a firearm, was marked ready for trial by William C. Mullany. Anderson was remanded to jail.

Albert Donald Barnhart, 16, of Hunter Street had his case adjourned to May 5 at 10 a. m. and bail was continued. Thomas Saccoman appears for defendant. The charge is third degree burglary, unlawful entry and petit larceny.

Also continued until May 5 at 10 a. m. was the case of John Walter Williams, New Paltz, charged with third degree burglary, grand larceny, unlawful entry and petit larceny. Defendant was remanded to jail.

A motion to treat Gregory T. Lyke under the Youthful Offender law made by Francis Martocci. The charge is grand larceny and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

A motion to treat Robert Albert Marshall Jr., 17, under the Youthful Offender law, was made by Charles Saccoman, counsel, and the motion was granted. Defendant is charged with a purse snatching episode on Abeel Street last March.

Judge Mino denied application to treat George Greenidge, 17, under the Youthful Offender law since he had previously been so treated. Sherwood Davis appeared for defendant, who is charged with participating in a burglary at the Spada Sport Shop on Broadway last Oct. 10, along with Joseph Frank Torrisi who was found guilty of the crime after trial and is now awaiting sentence. The Greenidge case was marked for trial.

Edward Mayo, charged with second degree assault, third degree assault and conspiracy as a misdemeanor, entered a plea of not guilty and the case was adjourned to May 5 at 10 a. m. and marked for trial. Joseph Avis appeared for defendant.

Rocky Plugs For Approval Of Transit Plan

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller says voter approval of his proposed $2.5-billion transportation bond issue is necessary to prevent a "sharp cutback" in the state's highway program.

The Republican governor said in a speech here Wednesday night that approval of the plan by the electorate in next November's election was essential because the state is depleting its current bond reserves for road building.

"The alternative before us is either a sharp cutback in our highway schedule or new bond financing," the governor asserted.

$140,000 Paid To Viet for Worthless Goods

WASHINGTON (AP) — Testimony at a Senate hearing indicates a Vietnamese importer got $140,000 from the U.S. government for worthless goods.

The $140,000 was the importer's share of $250,000 in Agency for International Development money to finance the importing of an epsom salts solution billed by its manufacturer as a battery preservative.

"Seems to me a 56 per cent commission is pretty high," said Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., of the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations at Wednesday's hearing into the matter.

Dear Abby

Neighbor's Help Was Embarrassing

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who works from 3 p. m. to 11 p. m. She leaves her boys, 9 and 11, home alone.

The other night I heard cries and screams coming from her house so I ran over there thinking maybe the boys needed help. Soon as I rapped on the door, asking if I could be of any help, they quieted down. As it turned out, the boys were having another of their fights, but from the sound of the yelling I thought someone was being murdered. The next morning when I was on my porch getting my mail, their mother came out and told me that she didn't want me or any other neighbors "bothering" her boys while she was working. I only wanted to help. Why on earth would she take this attitude? GOOD NEIGHBOR

DEAR GOOD: She was embarassed. Like all people who bury their heads in the sand, your neighbor believes that what she doesn't see no one else can. She forgets of course that one who assumes that position presents an excellent target.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a rare coin collection. Recently we noticed that four half dollars were missing. Their total value is more than $200.

The only person who has been alone in our house is a 14-year-old neighbor boy who sits with our children. This boy's parents are good friends of ours and we wouldn't want to lose their friendship over this.

My husband says we should hide the collection and keep quiet about the missing coins. I say we should confront the boy's parents. I am sure the boy doesn't realize the value of the coins he took. What should we do? COIN COLLECTORS

DEAR COLLECTORS: Whether the boy is under the impression that he took $2 in coins or $200, is beside the point. The boy himself should be confronted. Leave his parents out of it.

DEAR ABBY: Kindly transmit the following message to S.S.R., the surgeon who wrote about getting his right hand crushed by men who, when they shake your hand, want to impress you with their power and friendliness:

This can be avoided by a simple technique. Place the forefinger and middle finger high up the other person's wrist, and as the handshake is concluded, bring his hand downward, using the forefinger and middle finger as a fulcrum. This breaks the power of the grip, so he cannot possibly squeeze your hand hard enough to hurt it. Try it. It works.

Viet Gift Rate Is Picking Up

The program to provide gifts for area servicemen in Vietnam has picked up steam in the last 24 hours with individual contributions coming in more rapidly along with the establishing of seven collection stations.

Chairman of the Ulster County Serviceman's Committee Edward Engelhardt said that Valley Press, 33 Prince Street, will donate 50 11 inch by 14 inch posters for the project and that checks for the campaign should be made out to: Vietnam Committee, Ulster Hose No. 5, Town of Ulster.

Ulster Hose No. 5 has a collection box in front of its building on Albany Avenue Extension.

Besides Hose No. 5 and the uptown office of The Kingston Daily Freeman, 239 Fair Street, the five other collecting agencies are: Ulster County Community College, 214 West Chestnut Street; WKNY Radio Station, 601 Broadway; Bob Meyer's Market, Route 9W; High Falls Constable's office, South Road, High Falls; VFW Post 1386, Delaware Avenue.

Engelhardt said Ronald North, president of REACT, a mobile radio club, will be collecting gifts from the towns skirting Kingston, and Boy Scout Troop 19 wants to help in the collecting.

Chairman Engelhardt said firearms cannot be sent and that checks should be made out to the committee. He also said there are some restrictions, in a number of APO districts, on coffee and cigarettes but that "even a ten cent candy bar would be helpful."

House Burglary

Police were notified this morning that the house of Herman G. Rafalowsky, 68 Clinton Avenue, was entered and ransacked. Bureau drawers were ransacked and considerable damage was reported inside the house. It was not determined if anything of value had been taken. Entrance was gained by the breaking of a rear door glass.

Snow in Westchester

MT. KISCO, N.Y. (AP) — Snow whitened lawns and clung to shrubbery today as winter made a brief reappearance in this northern Westchester community.

There were accumulations of about one-quarter inch on car roofs and hoods, but the snow did not stick to roadways.

Tenting at White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Texas-sized tent has blossomed on the White House lawn.

Two hundred persons sitting down for dinner or 400 munching canapes at a reception can fit under the 50-by-90-foot tent. It completely covers the rose garden outside President Johnson's office.

Robert Dowling, a New York real estate man who frequently has a finger in urban beautification projects presented it to the National Park Service. White House spokesmen said Wednesday. They gave the cost as "under $10,000."

When there are no garden parties, White House groundskeepers will fold the tent and silently steal away so the flowers can get some sun.

Use Military Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — To keep threatened witnesses and prosecuting attorneys out of reach of gangland vengeance attempts, the Justice Department will occasionally house them on military bases.

It was learned Wednesday that the Justice and Defense Departments have worked out an informal agreement to do this as needed when they feel the safety of principal figures in a trial cannot be guaranteed any other way.

Capital Quote

"I've participated in many filibusters in my 19 years in the Senate, but this is the first time I ever saw both sides filibustering a bill." — Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., remarking on stalemate over attempts to repeal law under which a taxpayer could earmark $1 of his income tax for use of political parties in presidential campaigns.

Moose Will Install New Slate Sunday

Class enrollment and installation of new officers will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. by Kingston Lodge, 970, Loyal Order of Moose.

Expo Bound? Use Freeman Tourist Map

With the opening of Expo 67 and the anticipated mass exodus to points north this summer, The Freeman is making available a Travel Tip Map of New England, Mid-Atlantic States and Ontario and Quebec Provinces in Canada.

The colorful maps, with tourist information included, may be obtained during regular office hours at either the main office, 3 Broadway or the branch office, 239 Fair Street.

Clearly marked routes to all parts of the northeast reveal many scenic and entertaining sites within easy access of the Kingston area for the weekend vacationer, as well as the long distant traveler.

Up to Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders say a new showdown over the seating of Adam Clayton Powell is up to the excluded — and recently re-elected —Harlem Democrat.

The certificate making official Powell's re-election is scheduled to arrive here early next week from Albany, N.Y., where the official vote canvass is to be made today.

But sources close to both Republican and Democratic leaders say no decision has been made by the leadership to seek time. And Rep. Arch A. Moore, R-W.Va., said after a meeting with some of the leaders yesterday: "The next move is up to Powell."

Tsinghai Unreast

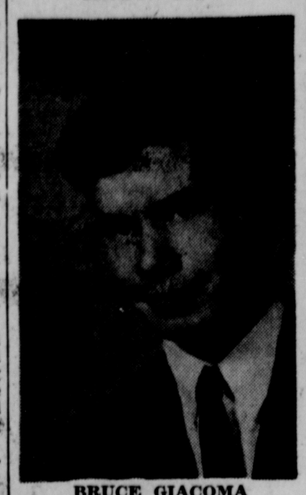

TOKYO (AP) — Peking wall posters reported today that the deputy military commander of Tsinghai Province has staged a "coup d'etat" against his chief and killed or wounded more than 200 supporters of Mao Tse-tung.

This report followed an earlier one that several hundred persons were killed or wounded in fighting April 18 between Chinese army and 10,000 anti-Maoists in Lanchow, capital of Kansu.

These unconfirmed accounts of widespread violence in China's far western provinces appeared to mark an intensification of the struggle between Mao, the Chinese Communist party chairman, and supporters of President Liu Shao-chi.

Chase, master councilor; Bruce Giacoma, senior councilor; Timothy Suenram, junior councilor; Urban Piworksi, senior deacon; Peter Boyle, junior deacon; Jackson Henderson, senior steward; Donald Schoonmaker, junior steward; Alan De Forest, chaplain; Keith Hults, almoner; Roger Greenwald, marshal; Burt Heldron, standard bearer and Alan Van Heusen, secribe and treasurer.

Also, Preceptors Andrew Giacoma, first; Dominic Pidone, second; Robert Terwilliger, third; Philip Greer, fourth; Robert Terpening, fifth; David Miller, sixth; Larry Tome, seventh and Howard Blas, sentinel.

The distinction, Representative DeMolay, will be conferred upon Ronald Carney, past master councilor. The Rev. James A. Braker, pastor of First Baptist Church, will be guest speaker.

Refreshments and a social hour will follow.

State Engineer Tells Planners About Roads

An outline on how the state highway program fits into county planning was presented to Ulster County Planning Board recently by M. Nicholas Sinacori, district engineer of Division 8, State Department of Public Works.

John Beal, liaison officer of Hudson River Valley Commission, was also a guest at the recent County Planning Board meeting. In presenting the latest thinking of the Hudson River Valley Commission as its role in the future development of the Valley, Beal stressed the role of the HRVC as advisory in nature. While they will, upon adopting rules and procedures, have certain review powers over development in the Hudson corridor, they cannot stop development from taking place, but can allow time for public opinion to develop.

Role Much Broader

Beal noted that the role of the commission is much broader than just review of certain projects along the Hudson River corridor. He feels that through research and study of the corridor and public liaison programs that much can be done to stimulate thought and local planning within the corridor.

Beal cited the need to work with local and county planning boards that are in operation in order that HRVC programs can reflect local desires and assist in coordinating regional affairs. The Hudson River Commission is now preparing a plan for the Hudson corridor which will be locally coordinated.

The Planning Board moved that the Executive Committee prepare a statement on the proposed rules and procedures of the commission at an early date.

Sinacori outlined the department's highway program for the Ulster area, and made a strong plea for the transportation bond issue coming up for referendum. Sinacori said the major problem the department has had is too many things that should be done and so little money to do it with. Beside providing money to improve mass transportation, Division 8 would receive some $414 million dollars from the bond issue for a five-year program in the seven-county area they service. Sinacori outlined some of the projects that would be under consideration under this bond issue.

Relate to Highways

Sinacori indicated interest in working more closely with the county planning board for there are several facets of planning and land use controls that directly relate to highways. Indiscriminate development along major highways can readily sap the traffic capacity of a road. Little or no setback provisions can either increase the cost of new road improvements or many times force their relocation and bypassing of areas producing an adverse effect upon land development. The official map process whereby proposed highways are mapped and reserved can save the state and the taxpayers consideraly.

Recognizing the importance of the state network to the development of county feeder roads, and the need for better land use controls recognizing the tremendous investment in highways and the effect they have on local development will necessitate a close working relationship between the county planning board and the Department of Public Works, he said.

In normal county planning board business the board expressed its deep regret over losing the services of Deyo Johnson of Ellenville from the Planning Board. Johnson was the first chairman of the board and responsible for its initial organization.

The Board welcomed two new members to the organization. Robert Rightmyer will replace Anthony Vicevich in the Village of Saugerties. Rightmyer is a lifelong resident of Saugerties and chairman of the Village of Saugerties Planning Board. Paul Lien will fill the vacancy from the Town of Shawangunk. Lien is a dairy farmer and has had extensive experience in various county agricultural committees over the past 15 years.

Approve Consultants

Irving Oltmann reported that the Health and Sanitation Committee has received word from the State Department of Health that the firm of Manganaro, Martin & Lincoln as consultants to prepare the county-wide sewerage study is acceptable to them. The final scope of services of this study was reviewed by Ulster County Health Department and the County Planning Board, and the next steps are up to the state and engineer for the county to agree on a final contract.

Christus Larios of Brinnier and Larios, consultants to the county planning board on the county water study gave a progress report. In their report the engineers noted that the ground water exploration was well underway. Considerable effort has been expanded lately to coordinate Ulster's study with that of New York City and Westchester County.

The refuse disposal application is at the New York State Department of Health in Albany and no progress was noted.

Due to changes in office space, the regular planning board monthly meetings will be held in the Surrogate's Courtroom on the third floor of the County Building.

Review Completed

The County Planning Board has completed the review of the proposed contracted specifications for the property map and county tax equalization programs. These two programs are before the Board of Supervisors. A five-man committee composed of: Albert Spada, county clerk; Fred DuBois, county treasurer; Charles Penney, Shawangunk supervisor; Richard Griggs, assistant county attorney; James Connelly, Kingston attorney, and Sid Sinick, chairman of the County Assessors Association, will travel to Fulton County to see the property mapping program firsthand, and report to the Board of Supervisors their findings and recommendations.

The County Planning Board sent a statement to the State Commission on the Preservation of Agricultural Land. The commission was established by the Governor to explore ways and means to accomplish the preservation of agricultural land, and held a hearing in Kingston at which several board members were present. Planning Board recognizes that this is a real problem in Ulster. The Planning Board concurred with the major points that came out at that hearing: that any real progress in this regard must balance future urban and agricultural needs particularly where the areas for both overlap, and that new approaches will be needed to successfully preserve agricultural land. From 1959 to 1964 Ulster lost from farm acreage an area equivalent to the total area occupied by homes, businesses, schools and industry at that time.

Under new business, William van Benchoten, Town of Esopus Planning Board, announced that they received notice of approval of a federal-state grant for a town comprehensive planning program.

Benjamin Webster announced that there will be a conference on water pollution and conservation on May 2 at the George Washington School Auditorium sponsored by the cooperative extension of New York State.

Mizerek, Group

had less than five years of schooling.

Figures for youth arrests have risen steadily over the years following World War II and in New York State alone in 1965 23,000 young people between the ages of 16-20 were arrested for crimes.

By 1970, youth in the 16-19-year-old labor force bracket will be a projected 7,188,000 and it is pointed out that if the market cannot absorb them the unemployment and youth crimes figures will be alarmingly higher.

Mizerek believes that the N. Y. State Division for youth will be watching the new program closely and that, depending upon the success of the venture, it may well serve as a model for many such schools.

If all goes as planned, the particular attraction of the school will rest in the fact that each student will be trained for one specific job that will be waiting him at the end of his training period, and the jobs according to Mizerek, "will all be good paying ones."

Lingering Problems

The most pressing problem, of course, will be funds, but what with the proper promotion and publicity, Mizerek believes enough business firms, foundations, and private individuals will be interested to make the project a success.

Working with and through federal departments of Health, Education and Welfare and the Maritime Administration, and N. Y. State's Division of Youth, Board of Education, Council on Crime and Delinquency, Health, Education and Welfare along with local high school counselors and private industry, Mizerek trusts that the project is well off the ground.

If the ambitious plan scores a success, it could prove to be one of the most significant events in the combating of youth unemployment and crime.

To Produce New Play

LONDON (AP) — Sir Laurence Olivier has announced plans to produce independently the Rolf Hochhuth play "The Soldiers."

The play has been banned by the board of the National Theater where Olivier serves as artistic director.

He said Wednesday he would be joined in the venture by Kenneth Tynan, literary director of the National Theater.

They have been embroiled in a row with the board whose chairman, Lord Chandos, said the play grossly maligned the late Sir Winston Churchill.

Elmira Airman Dies

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Airman 2.C. Gerald Wolf, 23, Keesler Air Force Base, critically injured Saturday in a motorcycle accident in Ocean Springs, died Wednesday at the base hospital here.

Wolf's motorcycle was involved in a collision with a car on U.S. 90.

His Elmira address was listed as 214 Devonshire Drive.

Survivors include his widow, a son, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wolf, of Elmira. Funeral services will be in Elmira.

Bags Two Cubs

TRENTO, Italy (AP) — Police went hunting in the Trento City Hall Wednesday and bagged two bear cubs.

The cubs had been placed in a makeshift cage in the City Hall until they could be shipped to zoos at Verona and Padua as gifts of this town in the Alpine foothills. Somehow they got loose.

Police cordoned off the corridors and closed in cautiously. One by one the errant cubs were captured. They were shipped at once to the two zoos.

Quentin's Death Row Resumes Grim Purpose

EDITOR'S NOTE — After a four - year moratorium, San Quentin's death row has resumed its grim purpose. Now time is running out for six convicts whose execution date has been set. Here is a picture of life on the "Row" for them — and 54 more awaiting their fate.

By HAROLD V. STREETER

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Death is back from a long holiday at San Quentin, and for six men on death row an agonizing countdown has begun.

It is countdown of the days left before they go to the gas chamber.

A Little Longer

Five fellow convicts for whom the courts also have set execution dates have a little longer to live — one until June 24.

Fifty-four others have yet to be told when they will take the last walk.

Aaron Mitchell, executed April 12, was the first man to die in the California gas chamber since Jan. 23, 1963. In the intervening years, the population of death row piled up because of an informal moratorium on executions called by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who did not believe in capital punishment.

What is it like on death row?

Roberts, who strangled his landlady in San Francisco, lives in a cell 11 feet long, 4½ feet wide and 7 feet high.

He has 44 neighbors on the sixth floor of condemned unit No. 1.

300 Yards Away

Only 300 yards away in front of Warden Lawrence Wilson's office, gay yellow pansies, purple iris and red tulips bend in the wind off San Francisco Bay. For Roberts, they might as well be a million miles away.

It's only a little bit better for 15 men on the third floor of condemned unit No. 2. They can catch a teasing glimpse of the coastal hills, deep green from persistent rains.

The death row men have no growing flowers or plants. The only living things they see are each other and their guards.

At 8 a.m., as the day watch of a sergeant and four guards replaces the late night watch of a sergeant and two guards in No. 1, a prison trusty wheels up an electric food cart with breakfast for Roberts. Maybe bacon and eggs, maybe some cooked cereal. Milk or coffee.

Can Skip Eating

If he wants it, the tray is slipped through a slot in the bars. If he doesn't, Roberts can skip it and go on sleeping.

An hour later, the trays are collected.

Two or three times a week, Roberts — and all the others — can be escorted one at a time to a shower room for a washdown.

Every morning, he's offered a razor with a locked blade for shaving. Then it's collected.

"But the razor blade can be pried loose," concedes Associate Warden James Park, "and blades have disappeared." It was an old blade, concealed, that Mitchell used to cut himself in a bungled suicide attempt the night before he was executed.

Once or twice a month between 3 a. m. and 10:30 a. m. a prison inmate barber comes into death row and gives haircuts.

Change of Clothing

Once a week there's an exchange of clothing — fresh T shirts, fresh blue denim pants. The death row cons also have "Romeo slippers," a sort of bedroom footwear. And the condemned men are the only ones in the prison allowed pajamas.

"They spend so much time in their cells on their bunk beds they have to have them," Park explains.

Once each day the prison physician comes by to hear any complaints of illness.

At 10:30 a.m. daily the individually locked cells are unlocked by pulling a big bar.

The condemned on the south row of No. 1 can go out onto a 10-by-200-foot concrete exercise yard, those on the north row to another, the men in Unit No. 2 to a third.

Roberts can choose to exercise, or he can sleep in.n

There's a heavy punching bag. There's a ping pong table, a record player, cards, dominoes. And there's an exercise table. One con lies on it; another grabs handles and tries to lift him.

At 2 p.m. Roberts and the other 59 are locked up in their cells, to be kept there until the next morning.

List Menu

Up roll the food carts for lunch and dinner. So there might be a lunch entree of corned beef hash and a dinner entree of braised short ribs of beef. Perhaps beans or peas and carrots or potatoes; bread; a salad at times; dessert such as cake or pie. And milk or coffee.

Using a remote-control button and earphones, Roberts can watch television on a 16-inch screen of a set tied to bars between the exercise wall and the gunwalk. There's one set to each three cons.

"They choose between them what program," Park said. "If there's trouble in agreeing we just switch around so there are three who are compatible. Sometimes they agree for one of them to be the exclusive control man for a week, the other the next and so on."

Each condemned man has a choice of two stations for radio programs heard with earphones.

At 4 p.m., as the first night shift takes over from the day, a sergeant distributes the mail.

Once a week, usually on Saturday, the prison's Protestant and Catholic chaplains visit. If a condemned man is entitled to Catholic Communion, he gets it.

Reading Materials

Books, magazines and newspapers are available.

At least a third of the condemned 60 have typewriters in their cells and work on their own cases, using legal works from the prison library, Park notes.

"This didn't really get going until four or five years ago when there were all those court decisions resulting in 21 death row cons getting life. The men have to buy their own typewriters."

The condemned men can be visited in a locked holding room by persons on an approved list.

"Some get a caller for an hour once a week," Park says. "Some never have any. Their lawyers can see them any day during visiting hours, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m."

An individual light bulb in his cell enables Roberts — and any of the others — to stay up all night if he wishes.

"Many don't go to sleep until 2 a.m.," Park says. "But at 1 a.m. the order goes out for quiet — no more talking aloud, no more typing."

That's how Roberts ticks off the hours.

LBJ Asks Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, admittedly tired after a day of diplomacy on both sides of the Atlantic, still kept a late date with the American Physical Society Wednesday night and asked the support of scientists for his Vietnam policies.

Coupled with his appeal was a be the first to sit down at the conference table, if only the other side would agree to negotiate a sttlmnt in Vitnam.

"I need your help and support in the trials and tribulations that go with the leadership of this country," Johnson said, departing from his prepared speech.

"Every day good people, wise people say to me, 'Why can't we have a political settlement, why can't we have a negotiated settlement? Why do men have to die?' and I ask myself that every morning."

Will Be Honored At Dinner

A testimonial dinner program honoring City Treasurer Orrie R. Riehl is being planned by the Kingston Democratic Committee and the Kingston Democratic Men's Club.

Arrangements have been made to hold the event at 6 p. m. Sunday, May 7 at the Capri 400 Restaurant, Route 9W, Port Ewen. City Court Judge Hubert A. Richter will be master of ceremonies. John P. Heitzman, chairman of the committee on arrangements, said tickets are available from Ticket Chairman William T. Mahoney, 37 Hoffman Street or from any city Democratic committeemen. Reservations are asked by May 4.

ORRIE R. RIEHL

Long Active

Long active in both organizations, Riehl served as president of the Democratic Men's Club for many years and sparked its activities. Appointed city treasurer by former Mayor Edwin F. Radel, Riehl was reappointed to that office by Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan. He has a wide Kingston and Ulster County background. It began at West Shokan and extended to Greene, Columbia and Albany Counties where for 35 years he was a salesman for the former grocery firm of F. B. Matthews & Co.

Treasurer for Kingston schools prior to establishment of the consolidated district, Riehl served for a time as transportation supervisor for the consolidated district.

Born at Trenton, N. J., Rhiel moved to West Shokan in 1906 where he was employed by J. O. Winston Company, builders of the Ashokon Reservoir. With completion of that project he enlisted in the Regular Army and served four years in the Panama Canal Zone shortly after completion of the canal. He held the rank for first sergeant when 19 years old and was believed to be the youngest man of that rank in the Army at that time. During World War I, he served with the Third Division, Thirty-third Infantry.

Returned Here

After the war, he became a chief clerk in the U. S. Army Ordnance Field Service at Little Rock, Ark. Reassigned to Seattle, Wash., he became homesick, quit the job and came back to Ulster County. On April 19, 1924, at Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, he married Nora DuBois of Atwood and has since made his home here. The couple have seven children, 22 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

New Library Books

The following popular fiction and non-fiction books were received this week at Kingston Library:

Fiction

Ehle, J., The Road. An epic story of convict labor, cave-ins, a fatal epidemic and cave of snakes.

Grenier, A., Yes and Back Again. A magnificent story of the studios, theatres, cafes, and small hotels on the Bohemian Left Bank of Paris.

Rhys, J., Wide Sargasso Sea. A tragic and spellbinding novel of growing insanity in a woman and uncomprehending hostility in a man.

Wilder, T., The Eighth Day. Moves back and forth through time and space weaving brilliant unforgettable characters.

Non-Fiction

Considine, B., It's All News to Me. Unforgettable recollections of great events and personalities that have determined the course of recent history.

Friendly, F. Due to Circumstances Beyond Our Control. A provocative book postulating how millions of Americans can enlarge and enrich their way of life.

Russell, B., The Autobiography of Bertrand Russell. One of the great biographies in the English language by the winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1950.

Taber, G., Stillmeadow Calendar. A book attuned to the miracles of the changing seasons and human heart.

Continue Search For Kidnaper and 9-Year-Old Boy

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP) — A search for a 9-year-old boy and the bachelor accused of kidnaping him turned today toward the nation's south and southwest.

A spokesman for this city's police department said Wednesday that John Wood, 24, might have traveled south with Billy Layton because Wood suffers from lung trouble that is alleviated by warm weather.

Billy has been missing since April 17 when, police said, he left his fourth - grade class at Beniamin Franklin Elementary School with Wood. Police said Wood, who met Billy at the local Boys Club, told the teacher he had to take the boy to the dentist.

Wood, 6-foot-4 and 200 pounds, taught swimming at the club. Billy's mother had told Wood to stop seeing her son, but she did not explain why.

A 50-state alarm has been issued for ... who is four - feet tall and weighs 80 pounds, was wearing a black jacket, trousers and sneakers when he vanished.

Dog Rescued

Constables Donald DePuy and Robert Doyne of Rosendale recently rescued a miniature French poodle trapped under a ledge and partially submerged in the creek behind St. Peter's Church in Rosendale. Lowered by a rope from a ledge 25 feet above the surface of the creek, Constable DePuy managed to save the animal from the bubbling clutches of the water. It was found that Mrs. Sylvia Williams of Rosendale was the owner of the dog.

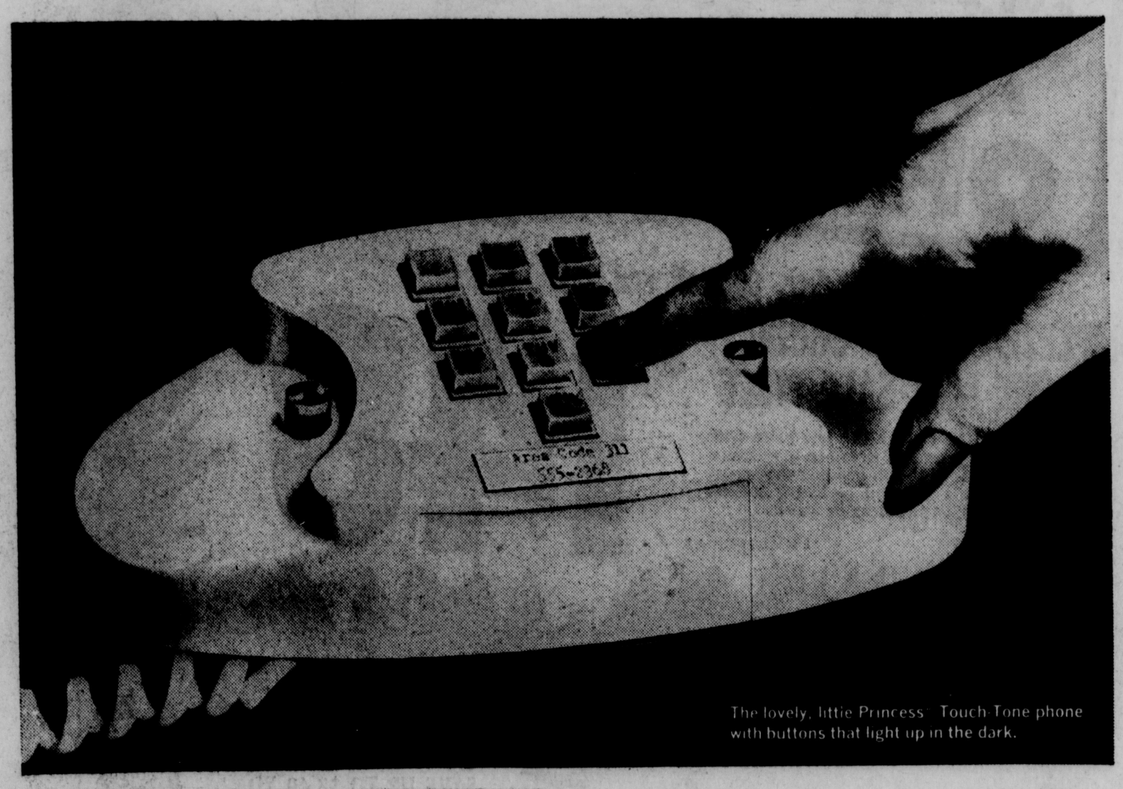

G-F Man Killed

SOUTH GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — David Nelson, 25, of Glens Falls, was killed Wednesday night when his automobile and another car collided at the intersection of Route 32 and Blue Bird Road, south of this Saratoga County community.

Set Conservation Topic for UCCC Lecture on Friday

Conservation in Our Modern World will be the topic of a talk Albert M. Day, a nationally known conservationist, will give Friday night at Ulster County Community College.

The talk, to start at 8 p. m., will be a Science in Perspective lecture. After the lecture there will be a question and answer period. Arrangements for the program are in charge of Associate Professor Richard B. Glazer, coordinator of Biology and Medical Laboratory Technology at the college.

More Important

"Conservation is becoming more important in our modern world," said Professor Glazer, "and for that reason Day's talk should be highly significant and really informative."

"We are most fortunate to have a man of Day's experience and reputation as a guest lecturer," Professor Glazer continued. "He brings with him a great deal of knowledge on the place and responsibility of the federal government on matters of conservation and biological management of wildlife and fisheries resources. This lecture seems especially pertinent in relation to the problems that now confront the Hudson Valley including pollution, recreation and depletion of both wildlife and fish."

Day, former director of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, will comment on several laws, recently enacted by Congress, having far reaching benefits in the field of natural resource management. In addition, he will discuss moves to strengthen pollution abatement, especially as they relate to the Hudson River.

Primary Interest

Day has spent his entire adult life in the field of fish and wildlife conservation. In addition to his federal service, Day formerly was executive director of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, director of fisheries in Oregon, and served with the Arctic Institute of North America.

A native of Wyoming, Day has authored scores of articles on conservation matters which have been published in many national magazines. He also has contributed to Hunters' Encyclopedia and wrote the book, "North American Waterfowl."

Will Mark Battle

HONOLULU (AP) — The U.S. Pacific fleet is sending 13 ships to visit 11 Australian and New Zealand ports next month during the observance of the 25th anniversary of the battle of Coral Sea.

The guest of honor will be Adm. David L. McDonald, U.S. chief of naval operations. McDonald, accompanied by his wife, will visit seven Australian and three New Zealand cities during the 20-day observance.

REUNION—After a separation of 51 years, Max (l), 70, and David Rosenberg were reunited Tuesday at Kennedy International Airport. David, 79, is a resident of Warsaw, Poland, and came to the U.S. to stay with his brother, a retired Brooklyn salesman. UPI TELEPHOTO

When Finesse Is Sure Thing

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There is an old bridge bromide that a peek is worth two finesses. You aren't supposed to peek but you can avoid some guesses about finessing.

East signaled come-on with the seven of clubs at trick one. West continued with the five. East took his ace and led a third club which South ruffed.

South had lost two tricks and barring some unexpected queeze situation in diamonds and clubs, there was a sure diamond loser also. This left South with the problem of picking up the queen of trumps if he wanted to make this contract, a result that South greatly desired.

South was a pretty good guesser but he found a way to substitute a sure thing for the guess. At least it would be sure unless one of his high cards was ruffed.

He started by running three rounds of spades and discarding a diamond from dummy. Then he cashed his ace and dummy's king of diamonds and led dummy's fourth club.

When East had to discard on that fourth club, South's worries were over. He led his low diamond and showed his hand.

It made no difference to him which opponent won the diamond trick, or what card was led back. He was down to the ace-jack-ten of trumps while dummy held the king-nine-seven and his opponent had to take the finesse for him.

Bares Problems In Filming Capote's Book

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HALCOMB, Kan. (AP) — "I am skating on some very thin ice," said pipe-smoking Richard Brooks as he propped up his feet on the desk of Herbert Clutter.

The film maker was taking a noontime breather from the filming of "In Cold Blood" in the Kansas ranch house where Clutter and his wife and two children were murdered in 1959. It was a brief period of repose for the tense, sometimes explosive Brooks.

He spoke of his problems in filming the Truman Capote book about the real-life murders:

"If I try to please Capote, I may offend some of the people here in Kansas. If I try to please them, then I might upset Capote. So the only thing I can do is to please myself."

As a result, he has shown the script to no one, and he doles out pages to the actors day by day. He has not even written a finish to the screen play — "I haven't had time; but I do have a fair notion of what will happen."

Brooks admitted that he had felt an undercurrent of opposition among Kansans toward the filming of "In Cold Blood" here.

"But I think that has largely been overcome by assuring them we are not wild characters from Hollywood," he remarked.

Brooks was denied the use of the Kansas State Penitentiary where the two killers were hanged in 1965. The prison scenes will be filmed in the Colorado Prison at Canyon City instead.

He was able to secure the use of the actual murder house for the film. One-fifth of the movie takes place inside.

"And we have a quality on film that we could get in no other way," said Brooks. "You see, with the ceilings we can have no overhead lighting. We must light from below, and that gives a very real quality to the scenes.

"But more than that, the important thing is what this house does to the actors. They feel what has happened here; there is a certain eeriness to being within these walls, especially down in the basement (where the father and son were killed).

"And when you see the girl riding on the same horse that Nancy Clutter rode, I'm telling you it's pretty damned haunting.' The murdered girl is portrayed by Brenda Currin, a University of Kansas student from Rockville, Md.

Business Mirror Reflections

Show Consumer Price Index Climbing Somewhat Faster

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Just as evidence developed that more consumers were returning to the marketplace, statistics were released this week showing the Consumer Price Index has begun to climb a little bit faster.

This rising index is like a shadow. Every time the consumer moves it moves too. It now costs $11.50 for goods and services that less than 10 years ago cost $10.

Wholesale Lower

Moreover, while the price tags on consumer goods rose in the past month, some wholesale prices dropped. This has more or less been going on now for close to a year.

This means, in the words of Arthur M. Ross, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor statistics, that lower wholesale prices were being "only partially passed along to the consumer."

The news sounds ominous. And it becomes complicated, too, when you hear the farmer say he isn't getting his share, the supermarket complain that its profits are only 2 per cent, and the distributor claim that he also is losing.

Although from time to time the government will discover companies conspiring to keep prices high, there is no over-all plot to defraud the consumer. Several factors must be kept in mind:

Purchasing Down

1. Even though purchasing power of factory workers is down some from a year ago, the long-term trend is for purchasing power to grow. The dollar is smaller but most people have more of them.

2. "Progress" is contributing to part of the rise. Housewives seem to be willing to pay for better products and packaging. They are demanding new foods. But, lack of progress is contributing also. Any layman on any shopping day sees evidence of waste and inefficiency.

3. The needs and demands of America are changing. The upward pressure on consumer prices is not so much from goods as from services: from medical care especially, and from rents, public transportation costs, loans, haircuts.

4. There may be an inevitable rise inherent in the price index. Not counting the years of the great depression, the index has risen in 38 years and dropped in only five years.

The trend to services, which rely on human skills to a great extent, would seem to assure a rise in the index in the next few years. Many of these skills cannot be automated to lower costs — a haircut, for example.

Rejects Bare Beauty

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP) — What, a winter-bare beauty like the liquidambar as official tree?

The choice is that of the Chamber of Commerce and the El Cajon Woman's Club, but the city park and recreation commission rejected it out of hand.

Bailey Points To Confusion on Apport Ruling

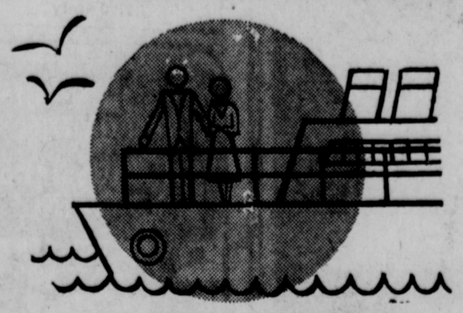

Harold Bailey, candidate for he Democratic nomination for County Legislative Representative for the 7th Legislative District, reports that in talking to eople throughout the district, which encompasses the Towns of Rosendale and Esopus, he has discovered a great deal of confusion regarding Reapportionment and the County Legislative Representative form of government which goes into effect with he election in November.

Bailey said that he would try o clarify the situation, at least or those in his district. He went on to explain that up to the present time, each town had a Supervisor and each supervisor was the chairman of his town board and was also a member of the County Board of Supervisors, which was the County governing body. Under the new system brought about by reapportionment, Bailey continued, each town will have its town supervisor but he will be governing only his town board and township affairs.

"The county governing body will no longer be the Board of Supervisors. It will be a County Legislative body comprised of Representatives from the various districts, and these districts are set up according to population, regardless of township boundaries. Again, Bailey states, let us confine this explanation to the 7th district. Each of these towns formerly sent a man to the county board, one from Esopus and one from Rosendale, but under the new set up, the two towns will combine and send three members to the County Legislature. This is decided by the population of the Legislative district, for approximately every 3,600 persons there will be one representative. The combined total population of Rosendale and Esopus townships call for three members. The town of Saugerties which formerly had only one vote on the county board will now have four votes. The towns of Hardenberg, Denning, Shandaken, Olive, and Rochester formerly had one vote each and now are combined into one district with two votes, where before they had five votes between them.

Formerly there were 20 towns and 13 wards from the city giving a total of 33 votes for 33 districts or one vote for each district. Now, Bailey continues, the county is divided into 12 districts which includes the city, and there will be a total 33 votes. Some districts will have one vote some two or three and some districts with as many as five votes. Some districts will be comprised of only one township with four votes, and other districts will be comprised of as many as five townships with only two votes.

"Now is not the time," Bailey says, "to argue the merits of inequities or good points or bad points of the new system. The system is here and unless the courts change it, we must accept it and put it into operation. As far as the 7th district is concerned," Bailey goes on, "we must come up with three candidates that can win the November election."

Seaway Deficit Is Lowest in 8-Year History

OTTAWA (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway had a net deficit of $3,223,149 in 1966, the lowest in the waterway's eight - year history.

That figure was disclosed Wednesday in the Seaway Authority's annual report to Parliament.

The operating profit on the Montreal to Lake Ontario section of the Seaway was $13.1 million last year, as compared to $11.7 million in 1965. A spokesman for the authority noted, however, that the profit - gain was more than offset by interest payments on capital investment.

Since its opening, the Seaway has accumulated a deficit of $45,421,000.

The report said increased costs from last year's wage settlement with Seaway workers had a significant effect on profit and loss. The settlement gave 1,200 workers a 20 per cent wage increase last June and an additional 10 per cent Jan. 1.

Toll collections rose last year by $2.5 million to $24.3 million. Cargo traffic through the Sea - way system reached a record 49,249,358 tons, an increase of more than 13 per cent over the previous year.

The British Guiana one-penny stamp of 1856 is the rarest stamp in the world. Only one is known to exist.

$75 for Plaintiff

A verdict of $75 for plaintiff, Steve Miklai, was returned in County Court Wednesday by a jury which had heard the testimony in an assault action brought by Miklai against William Galm, both of New Paltz. The action arose over an incident on April 27, 1964. William P. Curran appeared for plaintiff and Robert L. Harp appeared for defendant. The case was submitted to a jury Tuesday afternoon and when the jurors were unable to reach a verdict at a reasonable hour Judge Raymond J. Mino directed the jurors to return Wednesday and attempt to arrive at a verdict. When the jury reported it was a 11 to 1 verdict, one juror did not agree in the returned verdict when the jury was polled. Curran for plaintiff moved to set aside the verdict on the grounds it was insufficient. The motion was denied by Judge Mino. Curran then moved for a mistrial and that motion was denied.

Marines Hurting for Copters

DA NANG, South Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Marines in Vietnam are hurting for helicopters. The Army has plenty.

The shortage can be seen in many ways:

The body of a dead Marine rode on a tank near the demilitarized zone for two days before it was removed.

The assembly of a two-company relief force during an intense fight at Binh Son was delayed for at least three hours.

Ammunition for a battalion probe north of Route 9 arrived late, pushing back the jump-off time, two hours.

Where a U.S. Army battalion leaves the field by helicopter, Marine forces often have to march.

On some occasions Marine units have found themselves short of water and rations in the field.

It cannot be said that a Leatherneck has starved to death, died of thirst or exhaustion, or that Marine wounded have been ignored, but the helicopter shortage has made the Marine's job a little bit tougher.

Trading Stamps Theft

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two men face three months in jail and five years probation in connection with the theft of 63 million trading stamps from a Chicago warehouse.

Gaetano Miceli, 37, of Buffalo, N.Y., and Victor Battista, 36, of East Orange, N.J., were sentenced Wednesday by Judge Gerald J. Weber of U.S. District Court. The men had pleaded guilty to interstate transportation of stolen goods.

They were arrested in nearby Harmony Twp. on May 12, along with Ralph C. Hobbs, 49, of Beaver Falls.

Hobbs was convicted of the same charge. He is awaiting sentencing.

Hold Orange Contractor in Truck Death

Charged with first degree murder, a New Windsor contractor is being held in the Orange County jail for a hearing on May 4. He is accused of killing his business partner by crushing him between two trucks.

Charles Rice, 36, of Montgomery, died instantly early Wednesday morning when he was crushed between his dump truck and a pickup truck which State Police said was operated by Rice's partner, Allen R. Cherry, 46, of New Windsor.

Rice's body was found under the truck. Police said it had been dragged several hundred yards through a shale bank at Newburgh where the death occurred.

Arraigned later before Justice Joseph Tomson, the case was adjourned for all purposes to May 4, and Cherry was remanded to jail. Cherry was represented by Attorney Malcolm Carey.

State Police said no motive for the act has been ascertained.

Expect Dodd Censure

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee is expected to recommend that Sen. Thomas J. Dodd be censured or condemned only for using campaign and testimonial funds for personal expenses.

One source said the committee had settled on censure but others said this was still subject to change before the bipartisan panel submits its recommendations for Senate action.

Termed Synonymous

Many senators regard censure and condemnation as virtually synonymous. But the committee reportedly has disagreed on which term is stronger.

Other aspects of the Connecticut Democrat's activities, it was reported, will draw criticism from the committee but in less severe terms.

These include instances of double billing for travel expenses, his use of cars loaned to him by a Connecticut contractor, and his relations with Julius Klein, a Chicago public relations man and a registered agent for West German interests.

The committee's report on its investigation of misconduct charges against Dodd may be submitted to the Senate today.

After a meeting of the panel Wednesday Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., said it had run into last-minute problems. But he added he hadn't given up hope of completing the report this week.

Committee members declined to disclose the snag.

Will Lose Nothing

Dodd will lose none of his rights or privileges as a senator even if he is censured by the Senate or his conduct is condemned.

The Ethics Committee is not expected to ask for immediate consideration of its report, although it could be called up for action at any time.

The committee held hearings last month on Dodd's financial affairs. Dodd, the final witness, said "my conscience is clear."

"I don't believe any man is going to look me in the eye and say I've done anything wrong," the 59-year-old senator said.

Dodd said more than $170,000 raised at testimonial affairs for him between 1961 and 1965 represented personal gifts he could use as he saw fit.

And he blamed instances in which he collected for travel both from the Senate and private sources on what he termed the sloppy bookkeeping of a former employe.

At the committee's first round of hearings last summer, Dodd denied doing anything improper on behalf of Klein.

Synagogue News

Ahavath Israel

Religious services at Congregation Ahavath Israel, 100 Lucas Avenue, are held every Friday at 8 p. m., Saturdays at 9:30 a. m. and at sundown, Sundays at 10 a. m. and at sundown, and childrens' services every Saturday morning at 11 a. m.

This Friday, April 28, services will begin at 8 p. m. with the theme of the Passover with the relationship of the holiday towards the free actions of man, as the sermon by Rabbi Harry Z. Schectman. The liturgy will be chanted by Cantor L. Larry Jacobs assisted by the choir. Since the Sabbath is during the intermediate days between the first and the last two days of the holiday, no food will be served in the synagogue premises, and therefore there will be no Oneg Shabbat.

The last two days of Passover begin on Sunday evening, April 30. Services will be held on Sunday and Monday and Tuesday evenings at 7:30, Monday and Tuesday morning, May 1 and 2, at 9:30 a. m., and the Yizkor or Memorial services will be read at 11 a. m. on Tuesday. Children services will be held every holiday morning at 11 a. m.

Sunday morning there will be a rehearsal of the USY participants and the choir for the cantata that will be heard on the Friday evening of dedication week, during the religious services.

Wednesday evening, May 3, the dedication celebration for the new Ahavath Israel building will begin with a program for the Sisterhood and will culminate on Sunday night with a dinner and dance. The entire community was invited to the dedication exercises which will be held on Sunday, May 7, at 11 a. m. Reservations were mailed out for the dinner and dance which will be held that night.

Temple Emanuel

The Temple Emanuel Brotherhood will conduct Passover Sabbath Eve services Friday 7:45 p. m. at Temple Emanuel. Rabbi Jonathan Eichhorn, Dr. John Park and the Temple Choir will assist in the service. During memorial services the memories of the following will be invoked: Ruby Appel, Mae Frohman, Dr. Harold Mandell, Wolff Oppenheimer, Rachel Samter, and Herman Svirsky. An Oneg Shabbat will follow the service.

Religious school will meet Saturday 9:30 a. m. to 12 noon. Junior congregation Sabbath services are at 11:30 a. m.

Passover services will be held Sunday 7:45 p. m. and Yizkor services will be Monday 10 a. m.

Adult study group will meet Tuesday 8 p. m. Discussion will be on The Religion of Buddhism. Anyone interested may attend.

Temple Sisterhood board meeting will be held Wednesday 8:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Jacobs.

The Rev. William A. Studwell, minister of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church will speak to the congregation on Religions of India Friday, May 5.

CP CHAIRMEN—Paul A. Modjeska and Thomas A. Seche, newly appointed chairmen of the 1967 United Cerebral Palsy fund drive in areas outside the community chest, discuss plans for the upcoming campaign. Townships of Denning, Gardner, Lloyd, Marlboro, Olive, Plattekill, Shandaken, Shawangunk Hardenbergh and Rochester in Ulster County and all of Greene County will be canvassed during the month of May. (Freeman photo by Wagenfohr)

Fund Raising Starts For CP Center

Paul A. Modjeska and Thomas A. Seche were named today as campaign co-chairmen to lead the 1967 fund drive of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County.

The announcement was made by Edward deGroff, president of UCP, who said Modjeska and Seche would together direct all phases of the Ulster-Greene County drive scheduled in May for areas outside the Community Chest. These areas include the townships of Denning, Gardiner, Lloyd, Marlboro, Olive, Plattekill, Shandaken, Shawangunk, Hardenbergh and Rochester in Ulster County and all of Greene County.

In accepting the post, Modjeska called on residents to do their part in the fight against cerebral palsy, which he described as the "number one crippler of our children." Modjeska noted that despite hopeful advances through research cerebral palsy still strikes some 25,000 newborn infants each year as a result of brain damage at or before birth. "While we are seeking preventives and cures," he said, "we must continue to provide all of the services the cerebral palsied of our community must have if they are to have a meaningful life."

Modjeska, secretary-treasurer of Modjeska Sign Studios, Inc. and president of Twin Poster Corporation, well known outdoor, electrical and commercial advertising companies in the Hudson Valley is a member of the Kingston Lodge No. 10 F and AM, Albany Sovereign Consistory SPRS, Cyprus Temple of Albany, Shrine Club of Ulster County, board of directors of UCP of Ulster County, and an elder of the consistory of the Saugerties Reformed Church. He resides at 7 Spaulding Court, Saugerties, with his wife Janet and their four children.

Seche, an employe of International Business Machines Corporation in the International Purchasing Department, is president of the Kingston Chapter of the Barbershop Quartet Society and a member of the board of directors of UCP of Ulster County. He resides at 24 Court Avenue, Kingston with his wife Maureen and their six children.

Assisting Modjeska and Seche in Greene County will be Mrs. George Cobb, Catskill; William J. White Jr. Catskill; and Mrs. John Fromer, Tannersville.

Offers New Life

The UCP campaign provides the support for the education and rehabilitation services which are opening up a new life for those afflicted. He noted also that a portion of the money contributed was invested in research seeking the elimination of cerebral palsy. In order to assure the success of the campaign Modjeska and Seche urged local businessmen, housewives and students to join with them by offering their help. Volunteers can enlist by writing or telephoning the Cerebral Palsy Center, 400 Broadway, Kingston.

Integration Plan

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—City school officials hope to put into effect in September a plan to improve school integration.

The Board of Education approved the plan, devised by School Supt. Joseph Manch, Wednesday. Officials said they will submit the plan to the state Department of Education on Friday for consideration.

Dr. James E. Allen Jr., state education commissioner, had directed the city's school officials earlier to come up with "specifics and a timetable" to end racial imbalance.

The plan calls for the movement of 752 Negro students from five inner-city schools to 22 schools in white residential areas.

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

NEW YORK (AP)—The Johnson administration, accused by farmers of fostering a cheap food policy, took steps this week to ease unrest in the farm belt. At the same time it held out some reassurances to food shoppers.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman raised the price paid dairymen for milk about one-half cent a quart. He said it would eliminate seasonal fluctuations and give farmers more stable prices.

"There is nothing I can see to justify any increase cost to the consumer," Freeman said.

The Labor Department reported food prices last month declined slightly, but less than is usual in March.

It added that wholesale prices had declined further than prices consumers pay in food stores.

Beef prices are down with steaks and roasts featured on specials across the country.

Butter prices dropped 2 cents a pound this week. This still is 2 cents higher than a year ago.

The season's first watermelons and strawberries are reaching the markets.

Fresh produce supplies are limited in the Midwest, which has been plagued by bad weather and transportation problems.

Generally there are good supplies now of potatoes, onions, apples, oranges, grapefruit and watermelons.

Svetlana Says:

Stalin Not Alone To Blame

NEWYORK (AP) — Svetlana Alliluyeva has accused some of the present Soviet leaders of sharing responsibility for killings and other crimes which occurred during the regime of her father, Joseph Stalin.

"I think that many other people who still are in our Central Committee and Politburo should be responsible for the same things for which he (Stalin) alone was accused," she told a news conference Wednesday.

Cites Disillusionment

During the hour-long session she also described her disillusionment with communism, her conversion to Christianity and her decision to seek haven in the United States to find self-expression in writing.

More than 400 newsmen packed the conference room at the Plaza Hotel to hear Mrs. Alliluyeva — poised throughout — answer questions drawn at random from written queries submitted in advance. They applauded when it was over.

She drew chuckles with her reply when asked if she would apply for American citizenship: "Well, I think that before the marriage, there should be love. If this country will love me, then the marriage will be settled, but I cannot say now."

For most of the time she was serious, however, and, when she talked of the children, a son, 21, and daughter, 15, she left in Moscow, even somber.

"I don't think something bad will happen to them because they don't deserve it," she said. "I don't think it (her defection) endangers them because they knew nothing of my plans. They are not guilty at all. They cannot be punished for anything."

She said she was baptized into the Russian Orthodox Church in Moscow in May 1962. But, she said, there was nothing exclusive in her faith. Orthodoxy was the one "to which my parents and my ancestors belonged."

"I believe that all religions are true, and different religions are only different ways to the same God. When I am talking about God, I am just talking about happiness to live and to enjoy life on this earth," she explained.

On Finding God

No one, no book influenced her, she said and described finding God "as when the person who was blind, one day his eyes become open and he can see the world and the sky and birds and trees."

She spoke in a firm, controlled, low voice, but seemed most determined when she spoke — briefly — of her father.

"Of course I disapprove of many things but I think that many other people who still are in our Central Committee (of the Communist party) and Politburo should be responsible for the same things for which he alone was accused.

"And if I feel somewhat responsible for those horrible things, killing people unjustly, I feel that responsibility for this was and is the (Communist) party's, the regime and the (Communist) ideology as a whole."

She said her key reason for leaving the Soviet Union was the death of her Indian husband Brijesh Singh who she said had been denied "the main human rights." This apparently was a reference to Soviet refusal to let her take him to India for medical treatment.

Another reason, she said, was the trial of writers Andrei D. Sinyavsky and Huli M. Daniel, sentenced to prison for having published their works abroad.

The trial and sentence, she said, "produced a horrible impression on all the intellectuals in Russia" and "made me absolutely disbelieve in justice."

Replying to another question, she said there are restrictions on the number of Jews allowed to enter Moscow University — a charge which the Soviet government has always denied.

She said: "I know about restrictions in the university, and when Jewish young people are not adopted (accepted) and instead of them people of other religions are adopted who are less talented."

Arrest Black, Assault Charge; '59 Case Figure

A man charged with murder in 1959 was arrested Wednesday on an assault charge.

He is Charles Joseph Black, 67, also known as Charles Brayton, who gave his present address as Walton's Grove.

In June, 1959, Black was charged with second degree murder after Mildred Steger, 55, a local telephone operator, was found dead of a shotgun wound in her Cottage Row apartment.

Black's arrest Wednesday was on a warrant executed by State Police. Investigators Edward Shannon and Richard Ryan, and charging third degree assault. It was lodged by Edith H. Spring, of 151 First Avenue, and dates back to April 18. It is alleged that the assault took place at that address.

Attorney Charles J. Saccoman appeared with Black today before Special City Judge George A. Beck and hearing was put over to May 4. Saccoman indicated there would be "a cross complaint," or counter charge. He asked for reduction of bail, which was fixed at $500 and was not immediately posted.

After his arrest in 1959, Black was declared mentally incompetent and unable to defend himself against the murder charge and was committed to the Mattewan State Hospital for the Criminally Insane.

In 1964 after release from Mattewan, Black pleaded guilty to second degree manslaughter and was sentenced by Surrogate Francis H. Tucker, then serving as county judge, to a term of 7½ to 15 years in Clinton Prison.

The sentence was suspended, however, and Black was placed on probation with the provision that he commit himself to the Manhattan State Hospital.

At the time of his arrest in 1959, Black contended that the discharge of a shotgun which resulted in the death of Mildred Steger, was accidental. He was not a local resident at the time, but gave his address as 65 Morton Street, New York City. He had once lived in Kingston, however.

Among Lobbyists At Convention

Thomas Thompson of Napanoch was among a list of lobbyists who filed their names and affiliation with the Department of State in connection with the Constitutional Convention.

Thompson represents the State Employes Council 50, AFL-CIO, Albany, according to the release by Secretary of State John P. Lomenzo.

Lomenzo pointed out that any person retained by an organization to promote or oppose the adoption of a proposed constitutional amendment or amendments must file with the Department of State, in accordance with section 66-b of the Legislative Law and the rules of the convention.

The law further requires that each employer of a lobbyist file a report of fees, expenses and disbursements.

The act of filing with the Department of State requires those filing to specify the nature of the amendment or amendments and their interest in such.

Each delegate and the president of the convention will continue to receive any additional list of lobbyists.

Again Wins Award

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Novelist Gerald R. Perreau - Saussine has again won first prize of $2,000 in the Samuel Goldwyn creative writing awards at UCLA.

Perreau-Saussine, 28, who also took the prize last year, won for "The Moonbathers," which he describes as a psychological mystery novel set in post-war occupied Japan.

Lift Curfew In Greece

ATHENS (AP) — Greece's military dictatorship lifted the curfew in Athens and Pireaus today after King Constantine broke his public silence and gave qualified acceptance to the regime which seized power six days ago.

The 26-year-old monarch met with the new Cabinet Wednesday, urged organization of "a true and healthy democracy," and expressed the "fervent wish" that parliamentary government would return "as soon as possible."

Life appeared nearly normal in Athens and Pireaus, where one-quarter of Greece's 8 million people live. But the 1:30-5:30 a.m. curfew remained in force elsewhere in the nation.

Continue Death Cause Hassle in Coppolino Trial

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Carl Coppolino's murder trial continues to be a classroom in medical theory as defense and state experts haggle over the cause of death of the doctor's first wife, Carmela.

The state alleges that Coppolino, 34, in financial trouble, killed his 32-year-old wife with a muscle-relaxing drug to collect $65,000 life insurance and continue a "life of luxury" as the husband of Mary Gibson, 39, a wealthy divorcee.

Report on Drug

Medical experts testified for the state that chemical tests on Carmela's exhumed body convinced them that death was caused by a toxic overdose of succinylcholine, a drug mainly used in surgery.

The defense produced experts who said that nothing shown by the state could lead to any conclusion other than that the cause of death is unknown.

Dr. Frank B. Cleveland, medical examiner of Cincinnati, testified Wednesday as a rebuttal witness for the state that Carmela's death was due to "intoxication with succinylcholine."

Cleveland, who examined tissue and photographs of the alleged injection site, said that in his opinion Carmela was alive when injected and died "in a relatively short period of time — an hour or less."

Defense Attorney F. Lee Bailey asked Cleveland whether he based his opinion of a finding of 4.5 milligrams of succinic acid in the woman's brain.

Was Significant

"Yes," said Cleveland. "It was a significant finding. You normally would not find free succinic acid in the brain."

Bailey recalled Dr. C. Joseph Umberger, chief toxicologist for the New York City medical examiner, whose chemical analysis turned up the succinic acid, a component of succinylcholine.

Umberger said he had never tested for the drug in a homicide case before. Bailey asked if he wasn't dealing in theory then.

"I gave you theory which you didn't refute," said Umberger.

Coppolino's mother, Anna Coppolino, testified for the defense that Marjorie Farber, her son's former mistress, had told her more than once she "wanted to marry Carl."

The defense claims that Mrs. Farber, a 52-year-old widow, went to authorities after Coppolino spurned her in favor of Mary Gibson, and told them Carmela had been slain.

Coppolino was acquitted in New Jersey in December of a charge of murdering Mrs. Farber's husband, retired Army Col. William E. Farber. Mrs. Farber testified at that trial that she was a "love slave" of the doctor and aided him in the slaying.

General Taxes Due

City Treasurer Orrie R. Riehl today issued a reminder that second-half payment of general taxes are now due and are payable without penalty up to May 31. A two per cent penalty will be charged from June 1 to June 20 and after that the penalty will be five per cent.

The Library of Congress contained over 3,000 volumes when it was destroyed by British troops in 1814.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market resumed an irregular decline early Thursday. Trading was active.

Losers outnumbered gainers by a modest amount and the industrial average was down a little.

Analysts saw it as a much delayed reaction to the series of daily declines which was snipped off at nine straight on Wednesday. Fundamental optimism continued and brokers expected a resumption of the advance after a pause.

General Motors was unchanged even though first quarter earnings were the lowest since 1962. The figures were about in line with Wall Street forecasts.

McDonnell Co., up nearly a point, and Douglas Aircraft, up about 3, responded to a published report that the Justice Department does not plan antitrust action at present against their proposed merger.

Down fractionally were Masonite, Sperry Rand, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Lytton Financial, Ford and Itek.

Sperry Rand opened on 8,000 shares, off ⅛ at 32½. Standard Oil (New Jersey) opened on 5,700 shares, off ¼ at 63. RCA opened on 4,300 shares, off ⅝ at 53½.

Opening blocks included:

American Telephone, off ⅛ at 59 on 6,500 shares; Chrysler, up ¼ at 43¼ on 4,000; and Westinghouse Electric, off ⅛ at 56½ on 3,000.

On Wednesday The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell .4 point to 324.8.

Woodstock News

CHARLES E. NEWCOMB

IBM Engineer Enters OC Race

A resident of Woodstock, Charles E. Newcomb, has filed his petition for a five year term on the Onteora School Board. Newcomb has been a resident of Ulster County for 12 years.

With his wife and two children, he has lived at 1 Cannon Circle, Woodstock, for approximately three years. The Newcomb family is active in the Overlook Methodist Church in Woodstock and Newcomb's interest in church activities is reflected in his chairmanship of the Membership and Evangelism Commission, as well as his membership on the official board of the church. Other community organizations in which he is involved are the Woodstock Toastmasters and the Pack Committee for Cub Scout Pack 34. His wife, Betty Jane, is secretary of the Overlook Church school, Woodstock PTA room mother, vice-chairman of the Ulster County Cooperative Extension Home Economics Division Executive Committee, a Den Mother, member of the League of Women Voters and is assisting in formulating plans for the Woodstock Community Chest.

Their children are Russell, age 10, who attends fifth grade at Woodstock Elementary School and Richard, age 12, who attends seventh grade at the Onteora High School.

Newcomb's personal background has included four years of service in the Air Force as a radar instructor and he has attended two different colleges, the University of Buffalo's School of Engineering and Marist College in Poughkeepsie. His BA in Mathematics was received from Marist College. During his 12 years of residence in Ulster County he has been employed by IBM at their Kingston plant where for the last three years his job assignment has been engineering planning. To help maintain his technical knowledge he is a member of the IEEE and the SID professional societies.

Some of the reasons Newcomb is interested in becoming a member of the Board of Education, he says, are:

To help maintain the good educational system that has been established in the Onteora School District.

He feels his background will help him to understand the complex financial problems of the school district, thereby insuring the best use of the tax monies.

MRS. O. BERMANT

Board Appointee Seeks Reelection To Onteora Seat

Mrs. O. (Lili) Bermant has filed a petition as a candidate for the Onteora Board of Education to fill the balance of the unexpired term of Lloyd Collins, whose seat became vacant upon his departure from the area last August. She has been serving on the Onteora School Board as an appointed member since that time.

Mrs. Bermant, whose husband is a program manager at IBM, moved to this area three years ago and lives in Maverick Park. Her two children attend school in the district. Julie is a third grader at the West Hurley School and Charles is a seventh grader at the Central School.

Her interest in matters of education is of long standing. While living in Poughkeepsie prior to moving here, she participated in a four-year study by the League of Women Voters, during which various aspects of education finance were investigated. She has also been active in P-TA for many years, and is currently editor of the Bulletin Board, the West Hurley School quarterly publication.

Mrs. Bermant received her BA from Brooklyn College in 1950, and is currently a part-time graduate student at New Paltz.

"I am aware of the problems and the challenge which education presents today, and would like to share in this important aspect of our children's future," she said today.

"Much remains to be done in order to adjust high educational hopes to the economic limitations of the present, with due consideration to both. If elected, I'll do my best to do justice not only to the children, but also to the taxpayer."

Fire Destroys Highland Barn, Farm Equipment

Highland firemen answered a two-alarm fire Wednesday afternoon at Altamont Farms on old Route 9W north of the village where a large barn was destroyed together with a large quantity of farm machinery, sprayers, trucks and apple boxes.

Fire Chief Fred Visconti said the origin of the fire was unknown since the structure was well involved when firemen arrived at the scene. Another barn some 30 feet away was saved through the combined efforts of the Highland volunteers aided by Milton firemen who responded with a tank truck. Water was pumped from a nearby stream.

The barn was located on premises owned by Charles Andola and William Paladino. It is a complete loss. No estimate of damage has been made.

There was no live stock in the barn, Chief Visconti said. The other barn which stood close by was saved although it was scorched by the heat despite the efforts of firemen to keep it watered down.

Firemen were in charge of Deputy Fire Chief Lester Rheal until the arrival of Chief Visconti. Members of the Department stood by until 8:25 p. m. when the recall was sounded. Assistance from Milton was sought through Mutual Aid.

Not Too Many Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the two North Vietnamese MIG bases struck by U.S. war planes was empty of Communist jets, Pentagon sources said today.

Only four MIGs were on the other base bombed by American jets Monday, the sources said.

Asked about this, a Defense Department spokesman said "we won't know for sure" how many Communist jet fighters were on the Kep and the Hoa Lac bases near Hanoi when they were bombed.

The pilots "said they were too busy with their missions to count," the spokesman said.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING....

by ROGER E. SPEAR

Investment Advisor & Analyst

Never Too Late To Invest

Q) "I am rather a late beginner to the learning about and investing in stocks. But our family is raised, our bills paid and we have $5,000 in savings plus good insurance. I want growth over the next 10-15 years, not income, and own the following: General Tire; American Ship Building; Northwest Natural Gas. How can I improve my position?" R. M.

A) I don't believe that it is ever too late to invest in stocks, particularly when a man is as well situated as you are. Your judgment has been good and your stocks are relatively sound, but I believe some changes could improve your list for the furtherance of your particular objective.

General Tire & Rubber has had good record but through its subsidiary, Aerojet-General, it derives considerable income from aerospace and ordnance work. For more assured capital enhancement, I would switch to American Home Products.

American Ship is a good company in its field, but steady future growth seems precluded by the nature of its business. I would exchange this issue for Baxter Laboratories.

I advise you to hold Northwest Natural Gas, which serves Portland and other growing communities in Oregon and Washington.

Q) "I am a young man about to begin an investment program. I would like your opinion as to the place of life insurance in such a program." J. G.

A) The first prerequisite in an investment program is an adequate savings reserve. Never look to your stocks in an emergency, since they fluctuate considerably and should never have to be sold during a period of decline. Life insurance comes next and the amount you carry depends largely on the degree of protection you need for your dependents. Life insurance is itself a form of regular sevings. When you start a program, don't look solely at the principal amount of the policy but consider rather the return it would bring your heirs if you pass on.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Defense Rests In Dr. Carl Case

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Without putting the defendant on the stand, the defense today rested its case in the first degree murder trial of Dr. Carl Coppolino.

Coppolino, who testified in his own behalf last December when he was acquitted of the murder of a neighbor in New Jersey, was accused here in the death of his wife.

"If it pleases the court," said defense attorney F. Lee Bailey, "the defense rests." He closed his case without calling several witnesses flown in from New York.

The state closed its case Tuesday but continued to call rebuttal witnesses for an hour after the defense rested.

By government permission the U.S. flag flies continuously over the grave of Francis Scott Key.

Local Lions Hear About Need for County Airport

The importance of a county airport to aid in developing the community was outlined at this week's Kingston Lions Club luncheon meeting in Gov. Clinton Hotel.

The speaker was Edward B. DeGroff, a member of Ulster County Airport Commission.

A film was also shown. Narrated by Arthur Godfrey, it followed the development of an airport in a South Carolina community and the effect of this airport on the community. Under existing aid, an airport could be financed with 50 percent federal funds, three-eighths state, and one eighth county funds.

Hints from Heloise

by Heloise Cruse

Dear Folk:s

I want to talk to you about a "new" product I discovered . . . and the joke's on me because it has been on the market for years.

It's cocoa butter.

About a year ago, I got a terrific burn on my foot. Weeks later when I was able to touch the burned area, the doctor gave me a bar of cocoa butter and told me to rub the scar with it after each hot water soaking. I was amazed because that seemed so old-fashioned.

But do you know what? After doing this for weeks . . . no scar was left! I could hardly believe it!

One night while I was rubbing my foot with the bar of cocoa butter, I thought, "By golly, if it prevents a scar, why wouldn't it be good for the wrinkled skin on my face and neck?"

So I've been using it now for over a year, and you should see the wonders it has done. I grant you, it didn't make a young woman out of me, but it sure has helped. And two doctors I've discussed this with, recommend it highly for dry skin.

And I'm telling you gals who can't afford expensive creams that this also makes the most wonderful cleansing cream I've ever found. And believe me, I'm pushing fifty!

Here's how (to use the butter, not push 50)!

Just peel off the paper on the end of the cocoa butter as if you were going to eat a candy bar. Then rub the end of the bar under your eyes and over your face and neck two or three times. The more you rub, the softer and greasier it will get. The cocoa butter bar is hard, but as you keep rubbing it will melt beautifully. Take your fingers and wipe over your face and it will melt some more.

Then grab a facial tissue, wipe your face and see for yourself what comes off!

If you have the inclination and the time, take a wash rag, wring it out in warm water and wipe your skin again.

If you have what they call "dirty skin" (where soil and dust accumulates in tiny folds or wrinkles), take the end of the bar and rub it in these folds real hard again and again, and massage the skin well with your finger tips . . . then while the cocoa butter is still warm on your skin, wipe it with a facial tissue and you can get rid of some of those old lines you just THOUGHT you had!

And here's why!

The warmth from your hand keeps the cocoa butter soft as you rub your skin, and it melts down into the folds and loosens all the dirt. Woosh—you ought to see what happens.

Dear Heloise:

I found that a dishwashing detergent plastic bottle is perfect for mixing vinegar and water in for that after shampoo rinse. I use this method for both myself and my little girl.

All I have to do is grab the bottle (properly labeled of course) and give a few squirts. No messy mixing or "forgetting." I find the bottle with the flip top closer is better than the snip off one.

There is nothing like people putting their heads together in solving all those small but annoying daily problems.

My thanks to you and all your readers.

I.W.

Dear Heloise:

I have always hated sewing on nylon jersey until I hit upon a slick idea.

After cutting the garment, spray the seams with spray starch and press on one side. Turn it over and press on the other side.

This keeps the material straight and prevents the edges from rolling so that you may sew a perfect seam.

Mrs. Lottie Parubo

Harmony Group Here Reviving Pioneer Days

The Saugerties barbershop harmony group held its first meeting and formulative discussion last week in the Flamingo Restaurant here. The new group is open to all men, singers and non-singers, alike, and will meet every Thursday night at the Flamingo to sing new and old-time songs in four-part barbershop harmony.

This unique form of original American music started during the early days of the pioneers, who after completing their evening meals would usually gather round the camp fires and entertain the assembly with musical instruments or by vocal harmony. Sometimes the harmony was good. Sometimes it was very bad. But from this singing in the wilderness evolved what we know today as barbershop harmony.

As small settlements were started throughout the prairies and hill areas, the general stores and barber shops with their huge, pot-belly stoves, became the general meeting places for the male population. It was in these stores that all the news was discussed, gossip started, and songs were sung in harmony. Usually, one would hear this distinct type of harmony when entering the store, and after making their purchases, would linger or even join in the song. It was during this period of settlement that this unique vocal harmony flourished throughout the Midwest and Far West. Every large family had its own quartet. Every social gathering was considered a failure unless the men would vocalize in harmony. Even the young men of that period formed harmonizing groups.

With the rapid growth of population and the building of large villages and cities, the general store and barber shop soon lost their appeal as the general meeting place for the men, and barbershop harmony declined and nearly faded into oblivion. It was not until 1938 that two Tulsa, Okla. businessmen, reared by families who sang barbershop harmony, decided to preserve and perpetuate this great American heritage. They sent letters to 25 friends, inviting them to a get-together of singing. This resulted in the eventual forming of the first barbershop harmony group and related quartets. Today there are over 700 groups throughout the United States and Canada who sing barbershop harmony. Within these groups there are over 1,400 quartets who sing at charitable and social functions. The membership of the groups exceeds 30,000 men. Recently, there have been groups and quartets started in England, Africa, and among U.S. armed forces in South Vietnam.

Men who never sang before have become proficient in four-part harmony within a period of three months. Also, those men who say, "I cannot carry a tune," have actually surprised themselves by becoming members of a chorus and quartet.

For information relative to joining this newly organized group, phone Joseph Scarano or Daniel F. Desmond, both in the Kingston directory or visit any Thursday night at the Flamingo Restaurant.

Plan Bird Trip Around The Vly

A field trip will be held this Sunday by members of the John Burroughs Natural History Society to see birds around the Vly, near Cementon, and northern Ulster County. Interested birders may join the group by meeting at 8 a. m. at the junction of Route 212 and Route 32 near the Saugerties exit of the Thruway.

The leader of this field trip will be Catherine Thorne. Many species of birds have been seen on this annual trip. Since it usually continues into the afternoon, a lunch should be brought along.

Farm Lands Are Available Under Greenspan Plan

Greenspan, a part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Cropland Adjustment Program, is becoming increasingly popular, according to Joseph Sauer, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. Reports he has received show that cities, counties, and other public entities confronted with conservation, recreation, and open-space problems, are turning in increasing numbers to the Greenspan program for help.

The Cropland Adjustment Program (CAP), authorized by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965, is divided into two parts. One part applies to farmers, the other to public entities. For farmers, it provides adjustment payments and conservation cost-sharing to help to shift land out of certain crops and into conserving uses for periods of 5 to 10 years.

The Greenspan provision of CAP authorizes equivalent help to public entities—local, state, or federal—desiring to buy cropland for permanent conversion to non-farm uses such as the preservation of open spaces and natural beauty, wildlife habitat and recreation, and the prevention of air and water pollution.

Greenspan rates of assistance are based on the smaller of 50 per cent of the cost of the land diverted from eligible crops or what a farmer would have received under a 10-year CAP agreement. The grant will be determined by the number of acres and the farm yield per acre.

Greenspan help is being applied to a wide variety of uses—wildlife ponds, fishing and boating waters, nature trails, beautification areas; picnic, camping and wilderness areas; children's playgrounds, football fields, baseball and softball diamonds, golf courses; tennis, badminton and basketball courts; and swimming pools.

State or local officials, farmers, and other persons interested in details of the 1967 Greenspan program should call, write or visit the ASCS County Office, 54 John Street.

Bottle Drive Set By Scout Troop

Boy Scouts from Marbletown Troop 16, will have their annual bottle collecting drive Saturday, May 6, from 9:30 a. m. to noon.

Over forty scouts will try to cover the entire township to pick up any empty soda bottles citizens might have stored away at home.

The Scouts will return with the bottles to the Corner Store in Stone Ridge, which will be the collection center for this years' drive.

Funds from this drive will be used to purchase additional camping equipment for the rapidly growing Troop.

Contributions will be placed at the rear parking lot of the Stone Ridge Corner Store on Saturday afternoon.

Largest Seaplane

Largest seaplane ever built was the "Hughes Hercules" cargo transport flying boat, completed late in World War II. It weighed 400,000 pounds, had a wingspread of 310 feet and was powered by eight 3,000-horsepower engines.

RVHS Seniors Plan Class Trip

The annual class trip of the Rondout Valley High School Senior class will be made Friday, May 5, when 113 seniors and 12 faculty chaperones will go to New York City by school bus. They expect to leave the high school at approximately 9 a. m.

Upon arrival in New York, they will split into four groups, visiting either the Bronx Zoo, the Museum of Natural History, the circus or Radio City Music Hall. Each group will have lunch near its place of destination. At 5:30 p. m. students, chaperones and bus drivers will meet for dinner at Mama Leone's.

After dinner, the party will again separate into groups. One group will see the Met-Astro baseball game at Shea Stadium, and three groups will attend the theater. The plays selected for viewing are Barefoot In the Park, Cactus Flower and Funny Girl. Afterwards they will reassemble to board the buses for the return trip.

Planning for the trip was made by a senior class committee headed by Tina Parete, chairman and Martin Lovinger, class president.

Faculty chaperones will be: Mr. and Mrs. James W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Campbell, and Mrs. Armand Decker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grupe, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Skalla, Mrs. Mary Jane De Nike and Robert Kuster. Driving the three buses will be Marshall Kowal, Albert Mastin and Peter Zegel.

Attends Food Conclave

Wayne Mabie, school lunch manager of Rondout Valley Central School was among those attending the recent 15th annual New York State School Food Service convention at Saratoga Springs. Program included guest speakers, educational exhibits and field trips.

Constitutional Convention Means Extra Income to Some

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — It used to be you could rate the relative importance of a state official by his annual salary, but the Constitutional Convention is changing all that.

Many officials are drawing extra income for serving as convention delegates or staff aides, and the resultant inflation of their earnings is destroying the established order.

By tradition, the governor always had been the highest salaried officer of the state government. His $50,000 pay still is regarded as a pace-setter.

But Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller no longer can lay claim to being top man at the government pay window. In fact, he now rates no better than 11th in line.

Tied for top honors are two Court of Appeals judges, Francis Bergan and John F. Scilepi, who now draw $60,500 each, counting pay as judges and delegates.

In the old order of things, statewide election officials such as the attorney general and comptroller ranked close behind the governor in the salary department. But, even at $40,000 a year, Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz and Comptroller Arthur Levitt now rate no better than 15th — behind such a relatively obscure figure as Howard F. Miller, a fiscal adviser to the Assembly.

Miller also out-salaries Education Commissioner James E. Allen and State University Chancellor Samuel B. Gould, each paid $40,000. Miller participated in the Legislature's decision earlier this year to deny $5,000 pay raises to the two educators.

It was inevitable that certain convention delegates would vault over the $50,000 mark because they were serving simultaneously in other high government posts and drawing salaries ranging between $35,000 and $45,500. Add the $15,000 accorded to each delegate, and over the top they go.

There are 10 delegates in that category — four legislative leaders and six judges.

The salary order was shaken further by a recent decision of the convention leaders — the same men who run the Legislature — that any legislative aides hired to work for the convention would be entitled to second salaries.

Last week, for example, Convention President Anthony J. Travia, who also serves as speaker of the Assembly, put four of his Assembly aides on the convention payroll.

Miller, who advises Travia on fiscal matters from his $29,400 post as secretary of the Ways and Means Committee, was appointed executive director of the Convention Committee on State Finances. Travia said Miller would be paid an extra $12,000 to $14,000 a year, raising his total earnings to $41,400 or $43,400.

Three assistant counsels to Speaker Travia were appointed legal advisers to President Travia. Their legislative salaries, ranging from $12,000 to $14,500, are to be supplemented by additional payments of $12,000 to $17,000.

The convention's Republican minority leader, Earl W. Brydges, is expected to make similar appointments from the staff that serves him in his dual capacity as Senate majority leader.

At this stage, in any event, the new state - government salary order, taking convention pay into account, runs this way:

$60,500 — Judges Bergan and Scilepi, $45,500 in salary and allowances in their capacities as judges, plus $15,000 for serving as delegates.

$56,500 — Presiding Justice Bernard Botein of the State Supreme Court's Appellate Division, First Department, $41,500 plus $15,000 as a delegate.

$55,000 — Appellate Division Justices Harry D. Goldman of Rochester, Howard T. Hogan of Farmingdale and Henry L. Ughetta of Brooklyn, $40,000 plus $15,000 as delegates.

$54,000 — Travia and Brydges, $39,000 plus $15,000 as delegates.

$51,500 — Assembly Majority Leader Moses M. Weinstein, $36,500 plus $15,000 as a delegate.

$51,000 — Assembly Minority Leader Perry B. Durvea Jr., $36,000 plus $15,000 as a delegate.

$47,000 — Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson ($30,000 salary plus $17,000 in allowances counted as income).

$40,000 — Lefkowitz, Levitt, Allen and Gould.

"There isn't a better intermediate size car sold in the United States than the 1967 Rebel" says Tom McCahill, automobile expert for Mechanix Illustrated.

"Frankly, I never thought I'd be making such a statement."

Tom McCahill evaluates the automobile industry for Mechanix Illustrated. Recently, he took out an SST hardtop equipped with a 343 cu. in. Typhoon V-8 for an exhaustive series of road tests. How did our Excitement Machine perform?

"In roadability and performance, it would top most of the newer specialty cars. There's absolutely no plowing and little body roll. The whole feel of the car, when going over ruts or across dirt roads, is excellent."

What about comfort?

"It's extremely comfortable and relaxing to drive. In straight-line driving the SST is as comfortable as the Jell-O specials."

How about Rebel's new four-link rear suspension?

"Of all the new sporty-type cars, as they come from the showroom, Rebel has by far the best and safest suspension of the whole kit and caboodle."

And the looks?

"As sharp in appearance as a thousand-dollar bill. And from a cost angle, Rebel's not overpriced."

This is your kind of excitement, created by American Motors. A company that has created an entire line of six-passenger Excitement Machines that give you more excitement for the money.

See your American Motors / Rambler Dealer. He'll convince you the 1967 Rebel is the best intermediate built in the country today. Then do what Tom McCahill did. Take a test-drive.

Ambulance GroupSlates Another Session on May 2

A special meeting has been called by Hudson Valley Ambulance Association for Tuesday, May 2, at 7 p. m. at the supervisor's room in the County Office Building.

Gilbert Gray, president of the association, issued an invitation to operators of ambulance services, both private and volunteer as well as hospital representatives to attend the session.

Invitations have been issued to Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, State Senator Jay P. Rolison and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson to be present or have a representative present.

Congressman Resnick's office has been asked to have a representative in attendance to discuss the effect which a Federal Code may have on the New York State law governing ambulance services.

A representative of the State Department of Health, Bureau of Emergency Medicine Service, has also been invited to attend.

Among the matters to be discussed is a provision in the State Law, Article 30, which would make it possible for ambulance services to comply with requirements. One of the suggestion is that some provision be made to have required training of ambulance employes to secure required training in the local area, rather than have to travel to Albany to take required courses. The association seeks to have this program set up on a local level so that the required courses might be given locally.

Clifton Jones, Saugerties, secretary of the association, said the meeting would be very constructive and he urged that representatives from all ambulance services be present.

Following the meeting of the Hudson Valley Ambulance Association and at 8:30 o'clock all private and volunteer ambulance services have been invited to participate in a session at which the Rev. Emmitt Waite of Hyde Pak, Emergency Care Education co-ordinator of the Dutchess County Community College, will be the speaker. It is the hope of local ambulance services that a course can be set up, possibly at the Ulster Community College, in emergency care education.

A question and answer period will follow.

One Delegate's Viewpoint

A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION REPORT by
S. James Matthews

It has been my good fortune to be appointed to the Legislative Committee of the Constitutional Convention. This was my first choice of the 14 standing groups in which the delegates have been divided.

Probably like all the others in attendance at the conclave, I believe mine is the most important committee. Without fear of contradiction, all knowledgeable people have voiced the opinion that ours will certainly be the most contraversial.

It will be our function to draft a constitutional Article that will determine the make up of our state legislature. The very first decision must be wether to have a unicameral or bicameral legislature.

Favors Bicameral

During my primary and general election campaigns, I stated that I favored the retention of a two house legislature. Nothing that I have read or heard since last fall has changed my mind in this regard.

Perhaps it is that I have a closed mind, although I can think of nothing that I would resent more than bearing such a label. I would rather think, in flirting with egotism, that my first assessments have been correct.

There is a leadership cult in both houses of the legislature. A small select group, usually comprised of those who have served many terms, control the legislation that moves through their houses.

In the Senate, its the Majority and Minority Leaders, Chairman of Finance and Chairman of the Judiciary. Their Assembly counterparts, are the Speaker, Majority and Minority Leaders and the Chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means.

These men dominate their bodies, with the ultimate authority reposing in the Majority Leader in the Senate and the Speaker in the Assembly. Perhaps it doesn't sound very democratic, but that is the way it exists in practice.

The retention of the two houses provides a built in system of checks and balances on the whims and capacities of the leadership. What one has endeavored to pass to take care of a pet project may be rejected by the other who view the bill from a more objective vantage point.

Nebraska Failure

Proponents of a unicameral legislature are quick to stress that since the "one man-one vote" decision of the U.S. Supreme Court there is no longer a need for two legislative bodies in Albany. They point to the one state in the Union which has only one house providing their lawmaking function.

This state is Nebraska. No matter how that state is assessed in regard to their unicameralism, the ultimate decision is one of failure. It is because of this initial unsuccessful attempt that other states have shied away from similar experiments.

Thus far, the mail from our 38th Senatorial District has been light in regard to this subject although at public gatherings, the question is often broached. Although it will be the first decision that our legislative committee will pass upon, it is doubtful if it will be fatal to the other steps we will take and about which I'll comment in future weeks.

The Convention is in recess until May 8 because the Jewish Holidays.

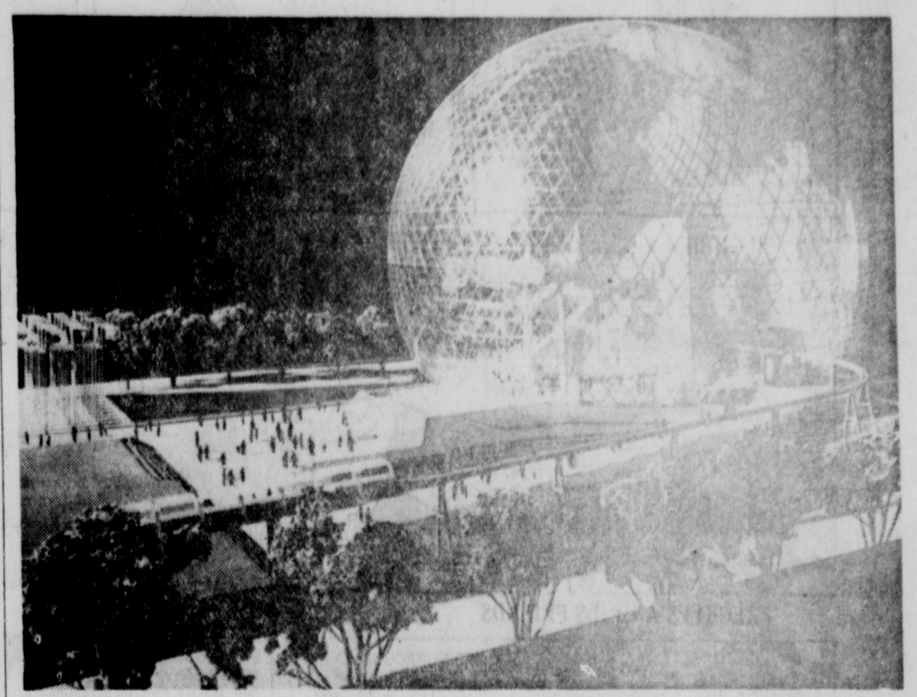

The mail is beginning to increase in volume. Those wishing to give me their viewpoints may send their letters to me, Room 426, State Capitol, Albany.

Evans Elected By 343 Lodge Lecturer Aide

The past Grand Lodge officers of Rondout Lodge 343 F&AM at a meeting held in mid-April nominated and elected Wiliam A. Evans as assistant grand lecturer of the Greene-Ulster Masonic District for 1967-68.

Right Worshipful Frank J. Strobel, past master, present Lodge trustee and past District Deputy Grand Master and Fred L. Van Deusen, secretary of Rondout Lodge and past Grand Lodge Steward, acted as the spokesmen for Rondout Lodge and nominated and elected Evans to his new Masonic office.

Evans is a lifelong member of the Kingston community, having attended and graduated from Kingston High School. He is the managing partner of the Kingston Lumber Company, where he has served for many years.

Evens has had a illustrious Masonic career. He is a member of Rondout Lodge, served as Worshipful Master in 1957, and, presently, he serves as secretary and one of three of Rondout Lodge's Temple Trustees, being responsible for the condition of the Masonic Temple. He was president of the Rondout Craftman's Club for two terms and its treasurer. A past Patron and present Patron to Matron Jean Johnson, of Clinton Chapter 155, Order of the Eastern Star and in the Order of DeMolay, he held the position of "Dad" and counselor. Evans was the constant companion and assistant to John Smith, Herman Story, Freeman Lasher and David Jacobs, past District Grand Masters of the Greene-Ulster District.

The representative of the Grand Lecturer of Masons in each district in the State of New York is the assistant grand lecturer. He has a position of importance relative to the lectures and secret work of the Masonic Fraternity. On him rests the responsibility of instructing and correcting the work and lectures, the ritual and masonic etiquette. The AGL has to be fully informed and knowledgeable of all the exacting work of a lodge, perform as a teacher-instructor and be accountable for the lack of proficiency in the district. The office has numerous responsibilities and a man should have acquired, through experience and association; amiability, understanding, be understood, well liked, respected, welcomed by the Craft and have proven, in practice, the "Brotherhood of Man."

McDowell Graduates

Marine Corporal John M. McDowell, son of Warren J. McDowell of Gardiner, graduated from the Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic Communications school at Camp Lejeune, N. C. The five-week school provides the trained personnel to operate and repair communications equipment used by Marine units. Under the command of Force Troops, the school is the only Marine Corps Communications training center on the East Coast.

Concert Harpist Will Play for Benefit Saturday, May 6

Joyce Roesnfield, New York concert harpist, will be presented by the League of Women Voters of New Paltz, Saturday, May 6 at 8 p. m. in a Harp Concert and on Sunday, May 7 at 3 p. m. in a Performance for Children on the Irish and Concert Harps. It is advisable to get tickets in advance from Mrs. Arnold Nemerofsky, 172 Main Street, New Paltz or from any member of the League of Women Voters of New Paltz.

Miss Rosenfield has toured many states and has been very well received by critics everywhere. In the New York Times of Oct. 7, 1962 critic Howard Klein writes, "impressive debut . . . showed off instrument to best advantage . . great capability . . . vibrant with nuance . . . displayed strength and dynamism . . quality of assurance and imperturbability that made her solid technique and control of tone seem almost matter of fact . . welcome addition to list of soloists. Competence like this is rarely found. And . . both competent as instrumentalist and, more importantly, as musician."

Attendance at these concerts will not only give support to a worthy non-partisan organization which works to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government, but will also give the audience a unique opportunity to see how the harp is played, and to listen to an outstanding artist interpret the works of composers of the past and present.

All proceeds from these performances will go to the League of Women Voters of New Paltz.

RVCS Teachers Rehearsing New Play; 'So. Pacific'

The Rondout Valley Teachers' Association is presenting the Pulitzer-Prize-winning "South Pacific" as the annual faculty play on the evenings of June 1, 2 and 3.

Singing principals include Sherry Smith as Nellie; Richard Baker as Emile; Peter Gaspar, Lt. Cable; Eleanor Knudsen as Bloody Mary; Arlene Merry as Ailee; Susan Campbell as Dinah; and Martin Kelly as a Sea Bee.

Principals who do not have solos include Harold Ross as Billis; Arnold Gottesman as Brackett; Lee Harrington as Harbison; and Virginia Shoff as Liat. Mrs. Shoff is also directing those members of the cast who speak and sing in French.

Two faculty children are cast in this production. They are Emile's children: Ngana, played by Jill Ryder, daughter of Mrs. Frances Ryder, and Jerome, portrayed by Randy Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ross.

Men in the chorus include David Baker, Peter Hengstenberg, James Keagle, Robert Kusxer, Andrew Lutz, Randy McMinn and Christopher Westover. Women in the chorus include Eve Barringer, Phyllis Bors-Koefoed, Lois Curran, Anna Mae Emmerling, Nellie Garfman, Evelyn Goss, Virginia Hudak, Phyllis Jackson, Natalie Jensen, Dorothy Kelder, Marcia Krom, Helen Larsen, Katherine Oates, Frances Ryder, Nancy Sack, Winifred Vaughn and Evelyn Voss.

Musical accompaniment will be provided by twin pianos, played by Mrs. Barbara Lottridge, vocal director of the high school, and music director of previous musicals; and Percy Gazlay II. Mr. Gazley, who resides in Kerhonkson, is director of the Ulster County Community Chorus, Inc., whose WGHQ Choir of the Air can be heard Sundays at 5:30. Mr. Gazlay has been Minister of Music at the Fair Street Reformed Church in Kingston for over 10 years.

Stage Manager is Gary Long, who has taught at the Rondout Valley High School this year, and who has had several years' experience in off-Broadway shows as electrician, director, actor, and drama teacher. He directed the Senior Class production of "Bye Bye Birdie" this year.

Director of "South Pacific" is Dixon McGrath, who has been in charge of all six annual faculty plays. He was Sakini in last year's "Teahouse of the August Moon"; Og, the Leprechaun, in "Finian's Rainbow" and Grandpa in "You Can't Take It With You." Mr. McGrath teaches 6th grade and appears occasionally in Coach House plays in Kingston. Last season he was seen in "Critic's Choice."

CONCERT CHORAL GROUP—Taking part in the 40-voice Choral Concert Group, which will give a program on May 20 at 8 p. m. and May 21 at 2 p. m. and 7 p. m. in the Kingston High School auditorium, will be the group of Sisters pictured here. Concert selections will range from folk songs to Brahms. Tickets for the concert, given for the benefit of the Benedictine Hospital, are available from Mrs. Raymond Mino, Mrs. Frank Campochiaro and from the hospital. Co-chairmen of the event are Lawrence Quilty and Harry Gold.

YWCA Sketch Class Planning Exhibit; Opens on Monday

The annual exhibition of the YMCA Sketch Classes under the direction of Emily D. B. Hoysradt will open Monday, May 1 from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m.

Tea will be served with the newly elected President of the Board of Directors Miss Helen V. Bowen, Mrs. Deweese DeWitt, Mrs. Robert B. Murray directors, and Mrs. Frank W. Thompson Sr. trustee, at the tea table.

The exhibition will continue until Friday of the same week and will be hung in the lounge and hallway of the first floor of the association building.

Exhibiting from the evening class will be:

Mrs. Warren Deyo, Mrs. George Dingee, Miss Sally Gallagher, Miss Olive Kyer, Miss Olive Marsh, Miss Irene McDonough, Mrs. William F. Murray, Mrs. Louis R. Netter, Miss Agnes Scott Smith and Miss Ruth N. Smith.

PETER B. DANNENBERG

Dannenberg Wins Scholarship Award

Peter B. Dannenberg, a January graduate of Dutchess Community College and a Poughkeepsie resident, is the recipient of a two-year scholarship awarded annually by Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation.

The scholarship winner is studying Accounting at the State University of New York at Buffalo. He is a graduate of Poughkeepsie High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dannenberg, 16 Balding Avenue, Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Dannenberg competed for the scholarship with candidates from all community colleges located within the Central Hudson service area. The winner was selected on the basis of scholastic record and evidence of leadership qualities.

Central Hudson has been awarding four-year engineering scholarships to area high school students since 1948, and two-year scholarships since 1962 to community college graduates who are planning to complete a four year college course.

Spring Session Opens For Youngsters Who Want Art Lessons

Young People's Studio in Woodstock, the art program for children ages five to seven and eight to 11 will begin its spring session's third unit of instruction.

There are now two classes for the 8-11 age group: Fridays, 3:30 - 6 p. m., and Saturdays, 9:30 a. m. to noon. The younger group meets Saturday afternoon 1:30 - 4 p. m.

A unit of instruction consists of three consecutive Fridays or Saturdays. When an opening in a group occurs, a child who is registered at the start of a new unit is at no disadvantage since each age group begins and completes an entirely new art project each week.

All three groups are under the guidance and instruction of artist and Art Students League instructor Bruce Dorfman. Mr. Dorfman is assisted by his wife Jeanne, who was a student of painting, drawing and ceramics at the Brooklyn Museum Art School.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ostrander, Mr. and Mrs. George Carle of Lake Katrine, have returned home after spending two weeks in Florida with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Passer of 8 North Wilbur Avenue will observe their 45th wedding anniversary April 28. They are the parents of four sons; a daughter who died in 1960; the grandparents of 19 and the great-grandparents of five.

Miss Helen Tompkins At Food Service Meeting

Miss Helen Tompkins from State University College, New Paltz, N. Y., was among those attending the 15th Annual New York State School Food Service Convention at Saratoga Springs on April 19-22, 1967.

The New York State School Food Service Association is a state-wide and national organization. Members are from Food Service operations in public, private and parochial schools.

State Supervisors from the State Education Department with leaders and workers from the School Lunch Departments have worked together organizing this 1967 convention.

Mr. Robert F. Doubleday, Producer and Director of WSYR TV, Channel 3 in Syracuse was the guest speaker at the Annual dinner on Friday evening.

Workshops-panel discussions on the ever growing need for information and help for the problems arising in all phases of School Lunch was conducted. Field trips and some relaxation, for example, attending the races one evening. A race was named N.Y.S.S.F.S. with the winner being awarded a cup by the State President. The evening was completed by a "Horsey" party at Holiday Inn after the Races.

Convention exhibits with all the latest trends in food preparation and up to the minute equipment to carry out the preparation was on display from Thursday noon until Friday night. Sixty-five exhibitors was present.

Patients Are Entertained

Five members of the Young Women's Christian Association of Kingston are attending the 24th National Convention in Boston from April 24th-29th. Members are Miss Helen Bowen, president of the board of directors, Miss Joan Freeman, teenage director, Miss Frances Maxwell, executive director, Mrs. Henry Millonig, president of the Women's Club and Miss Mary Staples, former board member. Maynard Mizel, a member of the board of trustees, is also attending the two day workshop on Long Range Planning.

Convention gives each association in the 50 states the chance to express their convictions and vote on special issues. They consider and adopt a program for the ensuing years, perform legislative and elective functions and transact any other business that may be presented by the members.

Convention offers delegates across the country to look anew at their community, nation and world—at the upsurging needs, especially concerning women and girls, at the possibilities for new hope and the promise for human dignity and freedom; to move into the future ready to make the contribution that is needed from the YWCA.

The work before each convention grows both out of the thought, convictions and practices of the past years and out of the YWCA's response to current needs, tensions, pressures, and the social and economic changes in the community.

Major subjects to be brought to the convention floor are; A Christian Movement Open to the World, Women in a Changing World, Work and Leisure, Education, International Peace and Goodwill, Improving Standards of Living, Economic and Social Justice and many more. The YWCA, with a Christian purpose, tries to give all women and girls the opportunity to develop their fullest potential and make their maximum contribution to society in whatever role they are called upon to play.

St. Mary's Mothers' Society

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mary's Mothers' Society was held Monday, April 17, in the school auditorium, 159 Broadway this city. Mrs. Donald Hastings, president, presided.

Plans were finalized for a cake sale scheduled for Mother's Day, Sunday, May 14. The sale will be held on the church lawn after each of the Masses. Mrs. Salvatore Romano and Mrs. Harry Secreto are co-chairmen.

Mrs. Donald Hastings, president of the society, appointed the following members to the nominating committee: Mrs. Frank Bailey, chairman; Mrs. Joseph De Cicco, Mrs. Marcus Drumm, Mrs. John Sangaline and Joseph Wenzel.

Mrs. Maurice La Bounty, program chairman, announced that Dr. Herbert Zaccheo, local obstetrician and gynecologist, will be guest speaker at the May meeting.

A gym exhibition was presented after the business meeting by sixth and seventh grade girl students. Two square dances were performed by the following pupils: Jeanette Belser, Eva Castle, Laurie Celuch, Linda De Cicco, Judith Faust, Mary Ann Forgey, Catherine Joy, Patricia Kahlstorf, Eileen McCullough, Rosemary Mancuso, Mary Ellen Robertson, Deborah Timbrouck. Miss Mary Conger and Miss Linda Yonta, seventh grade students, also lead the group in a series of exercises.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Louis De Cicco, second grade room mother, and her committee.

BERNARD GREENHOUSE

Hudson Valley Philharmonic Announces Change in Concert Date to April 29th

The next concert of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic will be Saturday, April 29, instead of the originally announced date of May 1.

The change was due to difficulties in scheduling the guest artist, Bernard Greenhouse. Concert will be presented at the Community Theater, Kingston with curtain time at 8::30 p. m.

Mr. Greenhouse will play Haydn's Concerto for Cello and Orchestra. The orchestra will perform the Romeo and Juliet Overture by Peter Tschaikowsky and Debussy's La Mer.

Mr. Greenhouse was a graduate of Julliard School when he became a student of Emanuel Feuermann. During his wartime service in the second World War, Mr. Greenhouse appeared with the United States Symhony Orchestra in 22 solo performances. In 1946 he made his New York debut with overwhelming praise from press and public, as "a mature musician and impeccable executant." Shortly after this brilliant debut, Mr. Greenhouse cabled the great Pablo Casals for an audition. Although the Spanish master was in retirement, the audition lasted two years and ended with these words from the maestro. "He is not only a remarkable 'cellist, but what I esteem more, a dignified artist."

Since then Mr. Greenhous has appeared with many of the great names in music—Arturo Toscanini, Dimitri Mitropoulos, Bruno Walter and Fritz Reiner in the United States, Europe and South America. His recordings for Columbia, RCA-Victor, Decca, Concert Hall, and American Recording Society have been acclaimed throughout both ontinents.

It will be possible to re-subscribe for the 1967-68 concert season at the concert by those attending; or patrons may subscribe by writing to the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, Inc. Box 1, Uptown P.O., Kingston, N.Y., 12401.

Arbor Day Program At Hurley School

Mrs. John J. Carroll, president of the Little Gardens Club of Kingston, has appointed members Mrs. Marshall Hughes, Mrs. LeRoy Janes and Mrs. George Brown to serve as an Arbor Day committee. They will present to the children of the Hurley Elementary School on Friday April 28 at 1:45 p. m. Mrs. David Fox's program "Where Will They Find It?" The theme develops the greater needs for present day good conservation practices and features the conservation pledge "I give my pledge as an American to save and faithfully to defend from waste the natural resources of my country—its soil and minerals its forests, waters and wildlife."

A tree given by club member Mrs. John Gill will be planted on the school property. Children of the sixth grade will take part in the ceremonies with vocal selections, recitations, and band music. Art students are preparing charts for the illustrative addition to the conservation theme.

Of Many Things

WOMAN'S WORK LOAD HEAVIER THAN MAN'S

Now there's proof that woman's work is less often done than man's. A 14-nation study made by a United Nations agency shows that mothers, both working and non-working, have less free time than their husbands. Here are the facts:

In the U.S., the working mother has an average of 2.8 hours of free time on weekdays and 7.1 hours on Sundays. The non-working mother has about 3.5 hours free on weekdays and about 7.5 hours on Sundays.

The working father, in contrast, has about 4.1 hours leisure time on weekdays, and 8.5 hours on Sundays. What is meant by free time? Time available for education, organizations, spectator activities, sports, walking, social life, radio, television reading, conversation, resting.

Commenting on these statistics the project director observed, "Let's say that the last state of human bondage still persists, even if its burdens have been considerably lightened."

ARE YOU AN AVID COFFEE DRINKER?

If you are one of the eight out of 10 Americans who drink coffee, you may have at some time wondered how it affects your health—particularly after you've finished the fifth cup. Here are some answers from the American Medical Association's Today's Health:

One or two cups will raise the temperature inside your stomach, make your heart beat faster, cause certain glands to become more active and force your kidneys to work harder. Fortunately, most of these effects wear off within an hour.

In moderation, coffee doesn't make people nervous. But nervous people shouldn't drink excessive amounts of it since caffine may effect them adversely.

Coffee seems to have some effect on sleep. One experiment showed that those who drank two or three cups before retiring found it difficult to fall asleep. But for others a single cup helped them sleep better.

DOCTORS WARN AGAINST HEAVY WEEKEND ACTIVITY

"If your soft and indolent all week a massive weekend effort is foolhardy, says Dr. Herman K. Hallerstein, heart specialist at the University Hospitals in Cleveland.

The human body has 600 muscles throughout, and each muscle is made up of fibers about the size of human hair . . . . adding up to about six billion fibers. Sometimes, after a strenuous weekend, one can have the feeling that each fiber is aching.

The doctors say: walk as often as possible. Do push-ups (ugh!) on a regular basis, morning and night. Participate regularly in a sport you enjoy: tennis, golf, swimming, fishing and even running or mountain climbing are excellent if done in moderation. Start slowly and build up, but never think you can achieve the stamina and proficiency of your youth. As one doctor put it: "No one has repealed the law of common sense."

ITCHY SEASON IS BECKONING US

Along with the crocus and the daffodil, spring marks the return of those itchy pests, poison ivy, oak, and sumac. There is no permanent immunity to any of the three.

Learn to recognize what these poisonous plants look like—and avoid them. Poison ivy and oak are three-leaved plants which may grow as low bushes or climbing vines. They may be entwined with honeysuckle and other climbers. DON'T TOUCH BUSHES OR VINES YOU DON'T RECOGNIZE. Poison sumac is a swamp plant that usually grows as a shrub.

If you've been exposed, remove your clothes and wash all affected areas with warm water and soap; then sponge with a 50 to 70 percent alcohol solution. Using rubber gloves, clean your clothes in an oil solvent and soapy water. Then dry them in the sun.

Freer-Low Family Association Meeting

The members of the Freer-Low Family Association will meet on Saturday, May 6 at New Paltz. A luncheon will be held at the Old Fort, Huguenot Street at 12:30 p. m. followed by a meeting which will be held at the Deyo Assembly Hall at 2 p. m.

The association, which is a part of the Huguenot Historical Society, New Paltz, New York, Inc. is now in its sixth year and is the second oldest of the family associations.

Frank Freer, Jr. of West Orange, N. J., who has presided over the Association for six years has decided that he does not wish to continue. His excellent abilities will be greatly missed not only by Freer-Low Family Association, but also by the Huguenot Historiacal Society. It is hoped that he will continue as a member of the Duzine and attend as many meetings as possible of the Association in the capacity of past president.

The family association came into being for the purpose of providing financial aid for the Freer Homestead on Huguenot Street. Its membership is composed of people throughout the country who have seen the need to provide Huguenot Street and the houses that comprise a group of the oldest in our nation.

The Freer Genealogy has been in process for a number of years and it appears that the book will be printed during the summer.

The present officers and appointed chairmen of the Freer-Low Family Association include: Frank Freer, Jr., president Harold M. Lowe of New Jersey, vice president; Claude E. Simmons of Massachusetts, vice president; Miss Martha Freer of Kingston, assistant treasurer; Walter Hasbrouck of New Paltz, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Burke, New Paltz, secretary; Mrs. Ruth H. MacDowell, Modena, finance chairman; Mrs. William Meidgerd, New Paltz, genealogist; Kenneth E. Hasbrouck, New Paltz, nominations, and Mrs. Mrs. Leigh Sheridan, New Jersey, Membership Chairman.

Probably one thing that has made the Freer name known in this country is the great number of Ulster County Gazettes, dated 1800, printed by Samuel Freer of Kingston. The Gazette told of the death of George Washington and over the years thousands of copies were reproduced for special occasions. These copies have found their way over the last 125 years into homes all over America. Unfortunately people think they have an original copy.

Charles Lang Freer, born in Esopus, N.Y. became a well-known business man and founded the Freer Gallary of Art in Washington, D. C. Lawrence Freer was Territorial Governor of Hawaii at one time.

The ancestor of the Freer family was a French Huguenot, Hugo Freer (Frere), who came with the other Patentees to New Paltz in 1678. It is of interest to note that in Charleston, S.C. there was a contemporary of Hugo Freer, by the name of John Freer. He was closely allied with the Boone family who built the first plantation house where the film, Gone With the Wind was made in the 1930s.

Members of family and friends are cordially invited to the meeting at Deyo Hall on Saturday, May 6 if they are unable to attend the luncheon.

Three Judges for Page One Competition

Judges for the Page One Queen contest sponsored as one of the highlights of the Kingston Newspaper Guild Page One Ball, were announced today by Robert L. Bain, president of KNG and general chairman of the annual social event.

The judges who will select three finalists at the Queen's Reception to be held Sunday, April 30 at The Flamingo Restaurant, Route 9W, Saugerties, are: Joan Conway of Hillside Drive, RD 3, Kingston; Miss Beverly M. Clark, 72 Mary's Avenue, city, and Orvil E. Norman, Stone Ridge.

Sixteen contestants have been listed by the committee in charge of the reception, to which the public is invited. There is no charge. The committee headed by Robert Bain, chairman, comprises Kathy Reilly, Rose Morris, Joan Huber, Joan Longendyke and Eunice Mentessi.

Entries for the Queen's Contest will close on Wednesday, April 26.

The 12th annual Page One Ball will be held Saturday night, May 20 at Governor Clinton Hotel. Format for the popular social event includes the crowning of the 1967 Page One Queen, presentation of awards to outstanding personalities.

The reception on April 30 will commence at 1:30 p. m., with refreshments. Mrs. Dorothy Darrow of Woodstock will be pianist.

Tickets for the ball may be obtained from any member of KNG or from the ticket committee: Charles J. Tiano, chairman; Walter S. Clark Jr., Edward A. Palladino.

Hostesses at the reception will be Agnes Campbell, Joan Woinoski, Virginia I. Reis, Jessie C. Wolfersteig.

Joan Conway, a judge for the reception, operates a public relations and advertising agency in Kingston and is self-employed. She is promotion director for Kingston Plaza Shopping Center and secretary of the Kingston Plaza Merchants Association. She formerly was employed in display advertising for the Newburgh Evening News, secretary at IBM plants in Kingston and Poughkeepsie, secretary of Ulster County Community College.

She has handled public relations and advertising for Communications Talents Associated of Kingston and also for the William C. Klein Agency of this city. She is the daughter of Lon and Clara Perry of 107 Fowler Avenue, Newburgh, and a graduate of Newburgh Free Academy where she majored in art and business.

Her husband, Ronald Conway, is an industrial designer at IBM. They are the parents of a daughter, Linda, 11.

Miss Clark, who also was a judge at the 1966 Page One Queen's reception, is fashion coordinator for ready-to-wear at Wallace's, Ulster Shopping Plaza, where she has been employed the last several years. She formerly was manager of a millinery store in Albany and at one time was bridal consultant for a Poughkeepsie store. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Clark Jr., of 72 Mary's Avenue, city.

Orvil Norman of Stone Ridge, the third judge, is president and owner of the Kingston Garden Center, Inc., 132 North Front Street. He is a native of Ohio and has been a resident of Ulster County the last 15 years. He is vice president and parliamentarian of the Town of Marbletown Republican Club, and has been an elected officer in the Parent-Teacher Association.

A past director of the Board of Ulster Kiwanis, he is a retired seaman and holds master's licenses both in the United States and Liberia. He has been engaged in the insurance business in this area for five years, and is a past president of the Christian Businessmen's Discussion Group of Kington. A high school graduate and a graduate of the U. S. Coast Guard Maritime Academy, he resides in Stone Ridge with his wife Ethel and their two sons.

Benefit Dance for Cancer

A dance sponsored by the Town of Kingston Cancer Crusade committee, Supervisor Douglas Dye, chairman, will be held Saturday night at the Sawkill firehouse.

The dance will be from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. with music supplied by the J. N. Four.

Refreshments and beverages will be available.

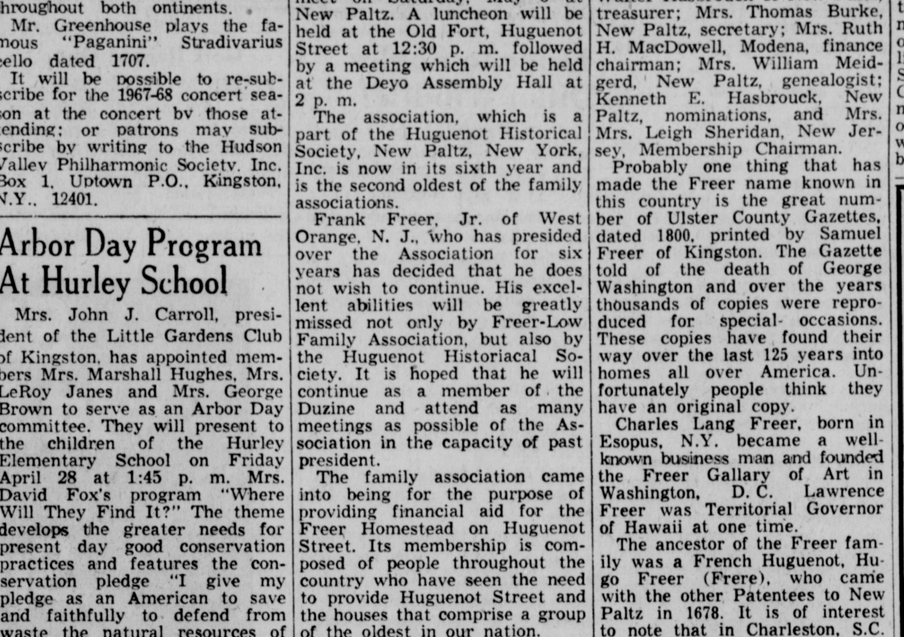

There will be a nominal charge for admission.

High School Downs Saugerties, 2-0, for Second Win

Gilligan Hurls Two-Hitter in Maroon Debut

Ken Gilligan made his varsity pitching debut for Kingston High Wednesday blanking Saugerties High, 3-0, on two hits at Dietz Stadium.

A superb, all-round athlete, Gilligan retired the first 16 batters he faced. He yielded singles in the sixth and seventh inning, while walking only one and striking out four.

Knocks In Run

The rally started when Tom Bowens reached base on an error and went to second on John Carter's hit. Gilligan's single to right scored Bowens with the first run. With two outs, Mike Derrenbacher was safe on McCutcheon's error, Carter scoring. Pete Watzka's single in fourth drove in the fourth Kingston run.

Ryun Won't Run Mile in Drakes But Watch Matson

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Ferocious assaults on the world shot put mark and some relay records are certain in the 58th annual Drake Relays Friday and Saturday.

But the four-minute mile — which has eluded greats here in the past — isn't among the 27 meet records that may topple, even though Kansas' phenomenal Jim Ryun will be around.

Jayhawk Coach Bob Timmons has decided to use Ryun, who has run the fastest mile — 3 minutes, 51.3 seconds — and half-mile, 1:44.9, in history, strictly for relays.

Muscular Randy Matson, easily the biggest of the nearly 3,000 athletes competing here, is a solid favorite to win his third straight discus title Friday, then follow up with his third consecutive shot put championship Saturday.

Ryun will do an anchoring 880 for the two-mile relay team and also anchor the four-mile team Friday. The next day, he will run the anchor mile on the distance medley.

Rochester Takes 7-1 Shellacking

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Key injuries and the Pittsburgh Civic Arena jinx were too much for the Rochester Americans in the first game of the American Hockey League's Calder Cup playoffs.

The Americans, who lost all four of their regular season games in the Arena, bowed to the Pittsburgh Hornets 7-1 Wednesday night as three Rochester regulars sat the game out.

The Hornets ran up a 5-0 lead before Rochester's Don Cherry sent the puck past goalie Hank Bassen in the third period.

The best-of-seven series resumes Friday in Rochester, where the Americans defeated the Hornets three times and tied them twice during the regular season. Pittsburgh was winless at Rochester.

Senators Blank State U. Frosh, 4-0

WILLIE MISSED IT: A rare sight occurred in centerfield in the first inning of the San Francisco-Cincinnati game when Willie Mays made an error coming in on a short fly ball. Reds' batter Vada Pinson popped one back of second base, Mays coming in from center tried to make a one-hand grab of the fast dropping ball as shortstop Hal Lanier got out of the way. The ball bounced out of Mays' glove and he lost it. UPI TELEPHOTO

Gene Fix Hurls One-Hit Victory

Gene Fix, Margaretville sophomore, limited State University (New Paltz) Frosh to one hit in pitching Ulster Community College to a 4-0 victory Wednesday at New Paltz.

A seventh inning single by Orlando Druda, State second baseman, robbed Fix of a no-hitter. He faced only 30 men, three over minimum, while walking only two and striking out 11.

Lou Perry led the Senators' 7-hit attack on Harold Sackson with a double and two singles, a run batted in in four trips. Sackson walked five and fanned eight.

Four Single Runs

Greco singled Roselli home in the first. A single by Amendola and an infield error sent Ulster ahead 2-0 in the fourth.

Ulster closed out its scoring in the ninth. Perry led off with a single, his third hit. Roselli doubled putting runners on second and third. Perry later scored on an infield out.

Saugerties JVs Nip Maroon, 10-9

Saugerties High Jayvees managed only three hits off five pitchers but took advantage of 10 errors and seven walks to edge the Kingston High Jayvees, 10-9, in a comedy of errors Wednesday at Saugerties. The winners had seven miscues.

Steve Van Dyke started for Kingston but was removed after walking the first two batters in the first inning. In succession came Rich Cogswell, Steve Lupton, Eric Assion and Bob Nerone, who took the loss.

Wrolsen survived an 11-hitter for Saugerties. Silanovich, whose double knocked in the winning run in the sixth, had two hits for the Sawyers. Larry Harris stroked three singles for Kingston and Sentar had a pair.

Kennedy Memorial Track Meet Slated

NEW YORK (AP) — Los Angeles and Lake Placid, N.Y., may be the sites in 1968 of the first John F. Kennedy International Memorial Games, a proposed streamlined version of the Olympics to be held annually in the United States.

Plans for the mammoth athletic carnivals, to be held in the summer and winter, were announced by the Amateur Athletic Union Wednesday as part of a nationwide drive to build up a $10-million permanent fund for the development of U.S. athletes for national and international competition.

Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU, said the first summer games were tentatively set for May 30, 1968 — a day after what would have been President Kennedy's 51st birthday — at Los Angeles, and the winter games for December 1968, probably at Lake Placid, N.Y.

Hull, however, said at a press conference, that other sites could be selected.

"The sites have not been definitely set," he said. "The national committee will take this up soon. We expect to get other bids. News of this apparently leaked before we were ready for the announcement of the fund drive.

"Salt Lake City has expressed an interest in the winter games. New York, through Mayor Lindsay, or his spokesman, has expressed interest in the summer games.

"We probably will hold the games in different cities each year, but it's too early yet to say."

To Expand Participation

The AAU said the central purpose of the International Sports Development Fund "is to give support to all amateur sports organizations in the United States and to promote expanded opportunities for international sports competition."

Hull said the competitions will include the traditional Olympic events and other sports may be added including bowling, golf, tennis, water skiing and polo.

Top athletes of the world would be invited to come over for a week with competition for three or four days, starting on a Thursday. He said foreign athletic officials had responded with enthusiasm when they were informally sounded out.

He said that with picked fields, each event would be like an Olympic final.

Hull said the stimulus to create a permanent fund was generated by a letter from President Kennedy shortly before his death.

"I urge the AAU to expand its program for the physical development of our youth and adults and to increase our participation in international competition," the letter said, in part. "I urge all men and women in all sports to join in a new crusade for excellence — in physical fitness and sports competition."

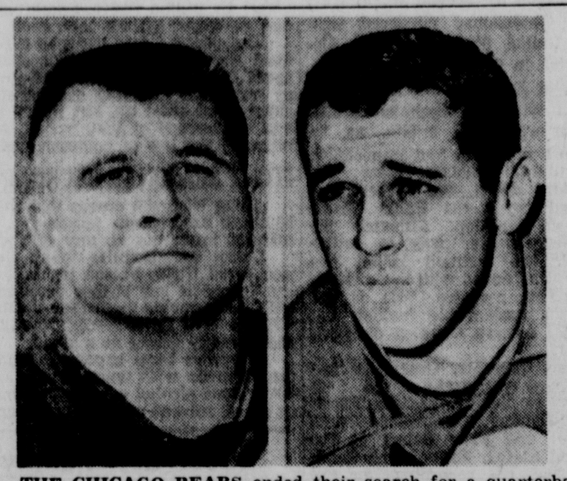

American Airlines, the first business firm to participate in the fund drive, contributed $75,000. In addition, the airline will handle the sale of the first 25,000 Kennedy medallions to the public. They will be given to contributors of $10 or more to the fund.

Trade to Eagles Ditka Windfall

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sure-handed Mike Ditka, the new tight end of the Philadelphia Eagles, is a rare example of a man who can have his cake and eat it, too.

When Ditka was traded Wednesday by the Chicago Bears to the Eagles for quarterback Jack Concannon in a National Football League swap, he:

In agreeing to play with Philadelphia, Ditka — who becomes a free agent May 1 — says he lost a "once-in-a-lifetime" opportunity to join the Houston Oilers of the American Football League.

He later accepted $50,000 and a three-year contract reportedly worth $250,000 if he jumped to the Oilers this coming season.

When the AFL and NFL merged, it left Ditka's deal up in the air. Houston, in the interest of good harmony, said it did not intend to drag the Ditka case into the courts — and would let him pocket the $50,000.

Val Averil Wins $4,000 RR Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Real Cormier drove Val Averil to a length victory over Easy Jay in the $4,000 pace at Roosevelt Raceway, the highlight of harness racing in New York State Wednesday night.

The winner covered the muddy mile in 2:07 4-5 and returned $6.40 as the favorite. Rendezvous Truder was third.

Saratoga Raceway — Thomas Brook ($8.40) edged Captain Norris and third - place Joyous Lad in the $1,500 pace, clocked in 2:07 1-5.

Batavia Downs—Dainty Dean ($4.40) defeated Dea Frisky by three quarters of a length and won the $1,200 pace in 2:05 4-5. New Kirk was third.

Elect Tony Lema To California Hall

LOS ALTOS, Calif. (AP) — Tony Lema, the young touring pro who was killed in a plane crash last summer, has been voted into the California Golf Hall of Fame.

Nelson Cullenward, president of the California Golf Writers, said today Lema will be honored at the writers' annual awards banquet Monday at the Los Altos Golf and Country Club.

Lema's home was in San Leandro, Calif.

Pine Bush Trackmen Rip New Paltz, 70-52

Pine Bush Central's powerful track squad captured nine of 14 events and got doubles from Jeff Svyerson and Rudy Zajicek to trounce New Paltz High, 70-52, in a UCAL track meet Wednesday.

High winds and a slow track produced unusually high clockings. Pine Bush scored a rare sweep in the 440 event.

The win was the fourth in five outings for Pine Bush. New Paltz, 0-4 on the season, tries again Friday in a triangular meet with Rondout and Liberty.

The summaries:

Onteora Rips Rondout 78½-48½ in Track

The Onteora Indians went on the warpath against the visiting Rondout Ganders yesterday and handed them a 73½-48½ defeat. Dale Chauncey heaved the discus 128 feet, 8¾ inches to set a new Indian record. Chauncey broke his own record set last week against Marlboro of 128 feet.

Another record was almost set by Glenn Lunt in the pole vault event. The bar was set at what was believed to be 11 feet, 3 inches. Bill Gilmore soared over that mark two years ago for the school record. Lunt did too but then the height was checked and found to be short by a quarter of an inch. Onteora coaches Dick Becker and Bernie Stahl both feel that Leaping Lunt will better the old mark.

The most exciting match of the day was a duel between Chuck Elston and Clark Van Etten in the 440 yard run. The boys were neck and neck the whole race with Elston holding a slight edge. He kept the edge and wound up beating Van Etten by a whisker. Elston was the only Indian to defeat Van Etten in wrestling this winter so their rivalry goes back aways.

Craig Hubbell once again outclassed the opposition in the 2-mile event, lapping the entire field. According to his coaches, The Hub is a coach's dream; hard working and willing to accept instruction. He's been known to trot to school from Woodstock, a nine mile jog.

The Indians are now 3-1 in UCAL competition. They travel to Saugerties tomorrow for a meet at 4 p. m.

Results:

880—Bob Maxfield (O), Pete Glass (O), Jim Harrison (R). Time: 2.22.

Knot Hole Loop Sets Four Dates For Registration

Applications for registration in the 1967 Metropolitan Knot Hole baseball league will be available starting Monday, May 1, at the Metropolitan field on Greenkill avenue.

League director James F. Howard says boys who have already participated in the league should be present Monday or Tuesday (May 1-2). New applicants should apply Wednesday or Thursday (May 3-4).

The Knot Hole league is for boys between the ages of 8 and 12 years and has operated successfully for many years.

Princeton Coach Is Named to Head Lakers Next Year

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill (Butch) Van Breda Kolff of Princeton was expected to be named coach of the Los Angeles Lakers' National Basketball Association team late today at a news conference.

Coach Fred Schaus of the Lakers would take over as general manager, informed sources said, while General Manager Lou Mohs assumes a supervisory role in owner Jack Kent Cooke's sports empire — the Lakers, the new Los Angeles Kings of the National Hockey League and the Wolves of the United Soccer Association.

Cooke issued a terse "no comment" Wednesday, when The Associated Press learned of the impending changes. Another report said Van Breda Kolff would sign a three-year contract at $30,000 a year.

Van Breda Kolff, 44, steps into the pro ranks after an outstanding 16-year collegiate record, including four Ivy League titles in five years at Princeton.

Home Loan Bargain

A house, even at 7 per cent interest, is an excellent buy. Financing for items like automobile and television sets often costs twice as much, and these things depreciate in value while a house usually grows in value.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The voice at the other end of the wire sounded agitated and emotional. The caller was an old baseball buff, 76 years old and pretty upset. He quickly made it clear he wanted to get something off his chest.

"What are they trying to do to Babe Ruth's name," he protested, his voice trembling with anger. "Who said Babe was a drunkard?"

Somebody said it on one of those local radio talk shows sime time ago and the repercussions have been lively. The unfortunate remark has snowballed into a cause celebre. The Babe Ruth buffs are seething.

*** *** ***

BABE RUTH, OF COURSE, WAS NOT a drunkard. He was a big, robust man filled with the joie de vivre, as the French say. He was a swinger with a gargantuan capacity for fun and frolic. The Babe's tumultuous mode of living, however, did not deter him from becoming a magnificent baseball player—in this book the greatest who ever lived.

Who was Babe Ruth?

He was an American boy whose early youth was spent in a Baltimore orphanage, while his father eked out a livelihood as a bartender in one of the city's less desirable districts. It was in such a setting that one of America's most legendary sports figures started a career which would elevate him to a position befitting presidents, kings and emperors.

The most fabulous player of them all, Babe Ruth was, says the Official Encyclopedia of Baseball, a snub-nosed, moon-faced man whose exploits captured the imagination of a nation with a mincing walk, a pair of pipe-stem legs, a barrel chest and the most explosive bat ever carried by man. For 20 years he held the interest of millions merely by swinging a 42-ounce bat which propelled 714 home runs, more than any other player in history.

Babe Ruth liked his fun and he never made any bones about it. It was an open secret. But on the baseball diamond he was a man apart, a living legend who miraculously appeared on the scene when major league baseball was near disaster, reeling from the effects of the sordid Black Sox scandal. There is no intent to pontificate, but Babe Ruth was in fact the savior of baseball.

*** *** ***

THE TALE IS APOCRYPHAL but it should be related to keep the complete Babe Ruth in focus.

Whitey Witt, a roomate of Ruth's with the New York Yankees, was approached by a friend.

"It must be quite an honor to room with the Babe," said the admiring friend.

"You must be kidding," laughed Witt. "I'm not rooming with the Babe. I'm rooming with a suitcase."

He played 22 major league years as first pitcher then outfielder. He set major league career records of 714 hom runs, 2209 runs batted in, 2056 bases on balls and 1356 long hits. His lifetime batting average of .342 is one of the best.

Ruth is still credited with all-time single season marks 170 bases on balls and .847 slugging percentage. His 177 runs batted in are second only to Lou Gehrig's 184 .These are not statistics likely to be compiled by a drunkard.

*** *** ***

THE BAMBINO TWICE SLAMMED three home runs in one World Series game. His .625 average against the 1928 St. Louis Cardinals is still the record. He racked up 457 total bases in 1921. He was durable. He was slugging leader 13 times, RBI leader 6 times and batted over .300 in 17 different years. Six times he led the American League in total bases, eight times in runs scored. He had home run totals of 60, 59, 54, 54 and his "60" was the most famous symbol in sports until Roger Maris broke it with the help of an asterik.

BABE RUTH HAD A FLAIR for the dramatic both as pitcher and slugger. He compiled a 93-44 pitching mark with the Boston Red Sox, but Ed Barrow of the Yankees recognized Babe's potential as a hitter and converted him into an outfielder. Gifted with a strong, accurate arm it was said of Ruth that he never made a bad play or threw to the wrong base. He added a new dimension to the game and made the home run the symbol of baseball prestige and the bargaining lever for big salaries.

Ruth held the World Series pitching record of 29 2/3 consecutive scoreless innings until Whitey Ford broke it a few years ago. He beat the Brooklyn Dodgers 2-1 in 14 innings in the 1916 World Series, the longest series game on record. He pitched shutout ball after the first inning. His 1.75 earned run average with the 1916 Boston Red Sox led the American League.

He slammed the first home run ever hit at Yankee Stadium, the first in an All Star game. In his 1935 farewell to baseball with the Pittsburgh Pirates, he rocketed three home runs in his last game. One of the shots is said to be the longest ever hit at Forbes Field.

THE LEGEND ABOUT WINSTON CHURCHILL is that he consumed a quart of brandy daily. When the temperance ladies descended upon President Lincoln demanding the firing of Gen. Grant for alleged tippling, the president is reported to have listened politely then inquired if the ladies knew what brand Grant was using, intimating that some of his other generals might benefit by it. Both Churchill and Grant must have been doing something right in their spare time.

Even in death, Babe Ruth played to an SRO crowd. Thousands filed past to view as his body lay in kingly state in Yankee Stadium, appropiately enough, The House that Ruth Built." Let us remember Babe Ruth that way.

Dukes Top New Paltz By 9 to 6

Marlboro Central tossers pushed five unearned runs across in the seventh inning to defeat New Paltz High, 9 to 6, in a UCAL baseball game Wednesday at New Paltz.

Bill Giametti, third Marlboro pitcher, who hurled shutout ball over the last four innings, was credited with the victory.

The Dukes collected only three hits off Ray Zappone, who went the distance for New Paltz, but walks, passed balls and errors swelled their run total. He struck out 12.

Mike Pagano, one of the three Marlboro pitchers, slammed a three-run homer in the third inning and added a single. Zappone hit two singles and Schiller triple for the Huguenots.

Ray Lasher Rolls 674; Tops Vols

Ray Lasher put the torch to the wood in the Volunteer Firemen's League with a 674 string. The 195 average bowler bombed games of 219, 234, and 221 for his big total, believed to be a season high in the loop. If it is Lasher will have to leave the banquet with a couple of guards. He's apparently got high average wrapped up with his 195 mark.

Despite Ray's heroics his team, Glasco One, dropped three games to Zena. The boys from Zena had three 500 shooters to offset Lasher's blast, led by Bob Kalcinski's 549 threesome.

Elsewhere in the league Barry Dunn came in with 565, Bob O'Brien had 233-574, Charles Alecca 551, George Finch 562, and last but certainly not least, Harry Lowe with a big 232 finale for 606. Lowe's team fared better than Lasher's. His Smokies took a pair from the Hasbrouck Bombers.

Other results: Cordt's Hose 2, Wick's Engineers 1; Wick's Fireballs 2, Rapid Hose 1; Spring Lake 2, Ulster Tankers 1; Sawkill 3, Brush Rabbits 0; Hasbrouck Boosters 2, Glasco 1.

Mac Thayer Stars For Larrie Squad

Mac Thayer of Kingston helped his St. Lawrence teammates win a dual track meet recently from Hobart with a first place finish in the 220-yard dash and a second place finish in the 100-yard dash. He also anchored the relay team to a victory.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Thayer, 4 Mountain View Ave.

Rochester Gals Hit 1148 Doubles In WIBC Tourney

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Two Rochester, N.Y., women combined for an 1148 doubles series to take third place in Division I of the women's International Bowling Congress' Tournament Wednesday night.

Mrs. Marian Morley rolled 223-198-170 — 591 and Mrs. Pearl Schmanke, 191-181-185 — 557. The leaders are Dorothy Arms of Liverpool, N.Y., and Margaret Wilkinson of Phoenix, N.Y., with 1171.

Army Explains Procedure for Ali's Induction

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The government will give Cassius Clay two chances under two names to be inducted into the Army Friday.

"We will abide with him whatever name he wants," an induction officer said. "We will call him Muhammad Ali if he prefers when we ask him to take the one step forward to be inducted. If he refuses to take the step we will ask him under the name Cassius Marcellus Clay Jr.

"If he still refuses, an officer will quietly take him from the group and into a conference room where the penalty for refusing will be explained to him. He will be returned later and asked if he has reconsidered.

"If he again declines he will be asked for a statement. Regardless of whether he makes a statement or not he will be dismissed."

Failure of Clay to be inducted would make him subject to a possible $10,000 fine, a five-year prison sentence, or both.

A last attempt by Clay's lawyers to keep the unbeaten heavyweight champion from facing criminal action if he refuses to be inducted was scheduled for 3 p.m. (EST) Thursday in federal court.

However, U.S. Atty. Morton Susman says Clay will not be arrested and that it could be 30 to 60 days before criminal action is taken if Clay refuses.

Bristol's Road Tour Greatest Since Cook

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's Dave Bristol, weary of paying heavy tolls on the road west, has come up with a new route.

And, suddenly, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Houston have become hot tourist attractions for Manager Bristol and the resurgent Reds.

Powered by Deron Johnson and Don Pavletich, the Reds downed the Giants 4-2 Wednesday for their sixth victory in nine road games against the National League's westernmost clubs.

Last season Cincinnati, in tumbling to a seventh-place finish, lost 15 of 22 road games against the Dodgers, Giants and Astros. The Reds were 3-6 at Los Angeles, 2-7 at San Francisco and 0-9 in the Astrodome.

This spring the Reds have played all of their 15 games — including six at home — against the same trio, and have won all but four. They took five of six at home, dropped two in a row at LA before beating the Dodgers, then swept four games at Houston. They are 1-1 at San Francisco, where they complete the 10-game trip today.

Get Fresh Start

"As far as last season goes, we didn't play well on the road — period," Bristol said recently in evaluating his club's 1967 prospects. "We had a losing record in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Atlanta, too.

"Winning more games on the road is part of our over-all picture. When we started spring training, I told the team to forget last season — and I meant it."

Johnson smacked his fifth homer in Wednesday's victory over the Giants while Pavletich stroked a double and RBI single, and fireman Ted Abernathy registered his sixth save in relief of winner Billy McCool.

St. Louis whipped Houston 7-2, extending the Astros' tailspin to 10 straight setbacks, and Los Angeles edged Atlanta 2-1 in the only other NL action. Rain washed out the New York-Chicago and Philadelphia-Pittsburgh games.

Wings Set Suns 9-2 in IL Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Rochester Red Wings have picked up in the new International League baseball season where they left off the regular campaign last fall — winning.

In the only scheduled opener which survived the rain and cold weather Wednesday night, the Red Wings trounced the Jacksonville Suns 9-2. The season's first encounter attracted only 3,608 fans in the Florida city.

Ahead by only 3-2 after seven innings, the Red Wings put the game out of reach in the eighth with six runs, two each riding home on singles by Mickey McGuire, Bob Floyd and John Scruss.

It was a big opening night for Scruggs, who earlier had driven in two runs with a solo home run and a fielder's choice. Ed Barnowski checked the Suns on four hits before tiring during a two-run Jacksonville seventh.

Tonight they'll try again to get in openers matching Syracuse at Richmond, Buffalo at Columbus and Toronto at Toledo. Rochester will play a doubleheader at Jacksonville.

On Shopping List

NEW YORK (AP) — Selling theater tickets at department ment stores is proving a popular public service. The Shubert playhouse chain reports sales totaling $1,541,434 at boxoffices in midtown and suburban stores. Separate agencies set up by Lincoln Center sold $701,300 worth of tickets.

Spring Football At West Point

At that time the Blacks first offense and second defense) will knock heads with the Golds (first defense and second offense) as Coach Tom Cahill unveils his 1967 edition. Last fall Cahill was named "Coach of the Year" after guiding the Cadets to an 8-2 record.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

At a Special Meeting of the Town Board of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, to be held at the Hurley Fire House, Old Hurley, New York, on May 8, 1967, at 8:00 p. m., there will be a hearing on whether or not to adopt the following proposed Ordinance or any modification of it.

DOG ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE TO RESTRAIN THE RUNNING AT LARGE OF DOGS IN THE TOWN OF HURLEY, NEW YORK, AND GENERALLY REGULATING DOG OWNERS' RESPONSIBILITIES.

BE IT RESOLVED and ordained by the Town Board of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York as follows:

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any owner of, or any person harboring any dog in the Town of Hurley, to permit or allow such dog to:

A. Engage in habitual loud howling or barking or to conduct itself in such manner so as to habitually annoy any person other than the owner or person harboring such dog.

B. Cause damage or destruction to property, or commit a nuisance upon the premises of a person other than the owner or person harboring such a dog.

C. Chase or otherwise harass any person in such a manner as reasonably to cause intimidation or to put such person in reasonable apprehension of bodily harm or injury.

SECTION 2. A person who owns, harbors or has custody and control of a female dog in heat shall confine such animal to the premises of its owner or the person who harbors, or has custody and control of such animal, whether licensed or not.

The provisions of this Section of this Ordinance shall not apply in instances where a dog is upon the premises of another person with his knowledge and assent thereto.

SECTION 3. A dog warden, to be designated by the Town Board as provided by Section 119 of the Agriculture and Markets Law, a peace officer or designated representative for the Town of Hurley may enforce the provisions of this Ordinance, and may also investigate and report to a Justice of the Peace of the Town of Hurley any dangerous dog as described in this Ordinance or in Section 116 of the Agriculture and Markets Law, and see that the order or orders of the Justice of the Peace in such case are carried out, and seize any dog found at large off its owner's premises in violation of the provisions of this Ordinance.

In addition to the payment of any penalty prescribed by this Ordinance, and a redemption fee and/or other payments required by applicable statutes, the owner shall pay the reasonable expenses incurred by the Town of Hurley for the feeding and caring of any dog so seized.

SECTION 4. Any person who observes a dog causing damage or destruction to property of a person other than its owner, or committing a nuisance upon the premises of a person other than its owner, may file a signed complaint, under oath, with a Justice of the Peace of the Town of Hurley, specifying the objectionable conduct of the dog, the date thereof, the damage caused, a description of the dog, and names and residence, if known, of the owner or other person harboring said dog.

SECTION 5. Upon receipt by the Justice of the Peace of any complaint against the conduct of any particular dog, the Justice of the Peace may summon the alleged owner or other person harboring said dog to appear in person before him; if the summons is disregarded, the Justice may permit the filing of an information and issue a warrant for the arrest of such person.

SECTION 6. If any provision, sentence, clause, section or part of this Ordinance or the application thereof to any person or circumstances shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this Ordinance, or the application thereof to other persons or circumstances, but shall be confined in its operation to the provision, sentence, clause, section, paragraph or part of this Ordinance and the persons and circumstances directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment was rendered. It is hereby declared to be the intent of the Town Board of Hurley that this Ordinance would have been adopted had such unconstitutional or invalid provision, sentence, clause, section, part, paragraph, or application not been included herein.

SECTION 7 Any person who violates this Ordinance or knowingly permits the violation of this Ordinance or of any of the provisions thereof shall be deemed to have committed an offense against this Ordinance and any person convicted of any such violation after investigation and hearing shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $25.00 for each violation.

SECTION 8. This Ordinance shall take effect ten days after its publication and posting as provided for by Section 133 of the Town Law.

Dated: May 8, 1967.

How you benefit from your Realtor's® Multiple Listing Service when you sell a house.

When you sell your house through a Realtor, you save time, energy, and headaches. Because a Realtor is a professional in the real estate business who will introduce you to truly interested people. People who want to buy what you want to sell.

And through Multiple Listing, a number of Realtors work hand in hand so that you have a wide range of prospective buyers. All of whom do business through a Realtor because they know he handles the kind of property they're interested in. Fairly and squarely.

When you're selling your house, do it the simple way. Get in touch with your Realtor, a professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict Code of Ethics as a member of the local board and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Court Says Miranda Ruling Applies in Military Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's Miranda decision — requiring that suspects be told of their right to counsel at all times and their right to remain silent — has been held applicable to military cases.

In a 2-1 decision, the U. S. Court of Military Appeals overturned Wednesday an earlier military appeals court ruling, which said it was not necessary for military counsel to be present at all times during an investigation to insure the suspect understood his right to remain silent.

The majority decision by Associate Judge Homer Ferguson said the ruling will affect all military cases tried on or after June 13, 1966 — date of the Miranda decision.

The opinion involved the court martial of Airman 3C Michael L. Tempia, New York City, convicted June 14, 1966 — one day after the Miranda decision — of taking indecent liberties with three 10-year-old girls May 1, 1966, at Dover Air Force Base, Del.

Tempa, sentenced to a bad-conduct discharge, forfeiture of all privileges, confinement at hard labor for six months and reduction of rank, appealed on grounds his pretrial statement — given without counsel — was allowed as evidence at this trial.

The U. S. Military Appeals Court ruled improper the refusal of a judge advocate to make available to Tempia counsel during the investigation by the special office of investigations.

Tempia's court martial was held at Dover AFB.

Sunny, Cool For Opening Of Expo 67

MONTREAL (AP) — The formal opening of Expo 67, the World's Fair here, was marked by a Weather Bureau prediction of sunny and cool weather today and Friday, although highs in the 50s were forecast.

The gates will open Friday to the general public. About 11-million persons are expected to visit the fair in the next six months.

Prepare Titan 3 For Launching of Five Satellites

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Making certain a five-satellite payload is not contaminated by fuel fumes, the Air Force today prepared a Titan 3 rocket for launch.

The booster — which has missed three planned launching dates because of problems — is tentatively scheduled to blast off at 5:01 a.m. EST Friday to orbit two nuclear-detection sentries and three military engineering and scientific satellites.

Air Force officials said Wednesday a faulty valve caused fuel in the Titan 3's steering system to leak on the launch pad. The valve was replaced, but additional time was needed to make sure the rocket's air-conditioning system did not suck in fuel fumes that might contaminate the payload.

The two nuclear - detection satellites are to join six orbited previously to help police the 1963 limited nuclar test - ban treaty. Three other satellites aboard the rocket are to study radiation and friction characteristics in space.

Servius Tullius, legendary king of early Rome, was murdered by his daughter and son-in-law after he had ruled for 44 years.

Wallace Tour Hits Syracuse

By HERBERT G. PELKEY
Associated Press Writer

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace took his "people's choice" campaign to Pittsburgh today after a noisy reception here that left him saying, "Man, you're making it tough."

That was one of the peppery politician's off - the - cuff comments Wednesday night during his speech to more than 5,000 persons at the huge Manley Field House at Syracuse University.

Northern Trek

..The speech was the kickoff of a week - long tour through the north, during which the Democrat plans to gauge political opinion and assess his chances if he should campaign for president in 1968.

In his speech, Wallace touched on states' rights, the war in Vietnam, student demonstrators and civil rights. His comments met with a variety of responses from the audience—boos, cheers and applause—singly or mixed together.

"I am contemplating the possibility of running for president," Wallace said. "And, if I do, I'll give the people a choice."

At this time, Wallace asserted, "there is not a dime's worth of difference between the major political parties."

Wallace, who serves as chief advisor to his wife, Lurleen, the current governor, has said he will decide by the end of this year whether he will run in the Democratic primaries or as a third party candidate for president.

Speaks of Choice

"If, in 1968, the major political parties don't give the people a choice, the people are going to run over a lot of politicians," Wallace told the audience.

At one point, however, when the audience made so much noise that Wallace had to compete with it to be heard, he turned aside and said:

Drew Applause

He drew the most applause when he critized those who attempt or succeed in sending supplies to the military forces in North Vietnam.

"If I were president, I tell you what I'd do. I'd have my justice department drag them before a grand jury and have them indicted for treason," Wallace said.

He also said that if he were elected president, he would "make it clear to Hanoi, Moscow and Peking that we will stand behind our servicemen in Vietnam."

The former governor also was criticial of what he termed the distortion of his opinions by news media. He also asserted that the U. S. Supreme Court had abrogated the rights guaranteed the states under the constitution.

"Despite what you may hear, I'm not against civil rights for anyone, but we today have an attack on property...a federal government that tells you who to sell your house to, who can teach and what they can teach."

Hanged in Effigy

Wallace's appearance here was sponsored by the university's inter - fraternity council, Tuesday night. Wallace, the man who gained national attention in 1963 when he attempted to block the integration of the University of Alabama, was hanged in effigy in front of one of the fraternity houses.

When told about this by a newsman at an airport interview earlier Wednesday, Wallace commented "I don't care about being burned in effigy, as long as it's not me that's burning."

Wallace is scheduled to speak in Cleveland Friday, and at a parents' day session Saturday on the campus of Rose Poly - technic Institute at Terre Haute, Ind.

In 1964, when Wallace was governor, he ran in Indiana's presidential primary and received a little more than 30 per cent of the vote.
